MEXICANS ASKED TO SETTLE OWN DISPUTE

Huerta and Carranza Delegates Given Chance to Agree on President

CONSTITUTIONALISTS TO SEND THEIR DELEGATES

Conferences Will Take Place Informally Aside From Mediation Meetings

HOPE OF SETTLEMENT NOT ENTIRELY LOST

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 22.—Negotiations between representatives of the two fighting factions in Mexico in an effort to agree on an individual for the provisional presidency is the latest plan which the mediators have evolved for the solution of the Mexican problem, but how the two elements will be drawn together is unknown. Strong pressure had been brought to bear on General Carranza, through the American government and the mediators persuaded the Huerta government to come into the plan.

Informal parleys between the representatives of the two factions outside of the formal mediation proceedings, but with the counsel and advice of the American delegates in the object of the plan. This move was adopted as a last resort, every effort to get the constitutionalists to agree to an armistice as desired by the mediators having failed. The appeal, which is said to have influenced both factions, is that the Mexicans must save their country from further spoliation and bloodshed by each making certain sacrifices, but neither side will be asked to abandon the principles for which they have been contending. It will be several days before the plans will meterialize and constitutionalist delegates can arrive.

In the meantime the mediators and Huerta and American delegates will continue their discussion of other points in the general peace plan than those on which they have been deadlocked.

The three new delegates en route here, said to have the approval of General Carranza and General Villa are Fernando Igiecias Calderon, who has been in conference with Carranza at Saltillo; Alfred Breceda, aide to Carranza; and Leopold Huerta di Espenosa, a member of congress during the Madero administration.

It is believed Calderon will succeed Rafael Zubaran as chief representative of the constitutionalists in Washington. The three men are expected Wednesday.

Another message from Carranza to the mediators has been forwarded from Washington to Niagara Falls. In that communication the constitutionalist first chief is reported to have discussed probable informal negotiations as to the povisional governments through the American commissioners.

After conference between the American delegates and the mediators, Justice Lamar sad he had not been authorized to make any statement. He indicated, however, that the proceedings would be considerably prolonged. No inkling was given as to what had been discussed, secrecy being scrupulously maintained on every side.

A few minutes later the Mexican delegates were summoned for a conference with the mediators.

CATTLEMEN AT WAR SHEEPHERDERS SHOT

Battle on Ranges in Washington Last Night; One Killed, Two Wounded.

Goldendale, Wash., June 22.—News of a battle between sheepmen and cattlemen in which it is reported that one man was killed and two seriously wounded, was telephoned to Goldendale early to-day from Wahkiacus. Sheriff Smith and two physicians rushed to the scene of the trouble.

The report stated that the employees of the Leo Brune, a well known Klickitat county sheepman residing near Grand Dalles, who has one of his flocks of sheep grazing on the Big Klickitat river, were called out of their tent late last night by a band of men and riddled with bullets, one man being killed and two badly wounded. It was also stated that the sheep were stampeded in the timber and a large portion of the flock slaughtered by the night riders.

A night attack was made about ten days ago by unknown men on the same camp, at which a number of sheep were killed and several shots were fired through the top of the tent in which the packer and herders were sleeping. Authorities here fear a stock grazing war between cattlemen and sheepmen has been started, which will be difficult to check. Rivalry over the right to the range is the cause of the trouble.

UNIDENTIFIED ARE BURIED BY ORDER OF QUEBEC CORONER

Quebec, June 22.—The second officer of the Storstad, Einar Reitnertz, took up the story of the Empress tragedy to-day when the government commission began the second week of its investigation. Reitnertz said that he took charge of one of the boats lowered from the Storstad and rescued fifty persons from the water on the first trip, although the boat was supposed to carry only thirty.

Knut Tonder, a sailor on the collier, said that the Empress was on the port bow of the Storstad when he first saw her. He could tell by the vibration of the propeller, he said, that the Storstad's engines had been put astern.

Forty-seven unidentified bodies of persons who perished in the wreck of the Empress of Ireland were buried today by order of the coroner. Services were conducted by both Protestant and Catholic clergymen.

VILLA DENIES REPORT OF CHAO'S EXECUTION

Says General Angeles is With Artillery Near Zacatecas, Not Named President

Torreon, Mex., June 22.—Rumor that General Angeles had been proclaimed provisional president by General Villa, and that General Chao had been executed were denied yesterday by Gen. Villa. As soon as the reports reached his headquarters, General Villa said that he had heard nothing of General Angeles dismissal from Carranza's cabinet, as reported from Saltillo. Chao was seen here two days ago as he was about to entrain his troops to move against Zacatecas. Angeles has been near Zacatecas with the artillery brigade for the last four days. The report that Angeles had been made provisional president was received at headquarters here with frank surprise.

"The story that I executed General Chao is a malicious lie," declared Gen. Villa. "General Chao is with the division near Zacatecas. Two days ago he was a guest at my house, and the two of us parted on the best of terms. The story is a fabrication. I must say the same of the rumor that I proclaimed General Angeles provisional president of the Mexican republic. I have done nothing of the sort, no matter who says so, and the matter is far from my mind. Of the story that Gen. Carranza has deposed Angeles as secretary of war, I know nothing."

El Paso, Tex., June 22.—Efforts were made to-day by Carranza agents to secure the return to Juarez of the national officials ejected by Villa's agents from their offices, and the return to the national treasury office at Juarez of the 1,000,000 pesos in constitutionalist paper confiscated by the troops. Robert Pesquiera, constitutionalist financial agent, and Lazaro de la Garza, Villa's agent, held a long conference this afternoon, at which this matter was discussed.

The Carranza element expressed the belief that only by the reinstatement of Carranza's appointees could the matter be adjusted satisfactorily.

Eagle Pass, Tex., June 22.—A demand for the payment of $100,000 gold by the Aguila Coal Company, near Piedras Negras has been made by constitutionalist officers. If the money is paid, it was announced to-day, threatened confiscation of the property would be temporarily deferred.

WOULD SELL SHIPS BUT NOT FOR WAR PURPOSES

Washington, June 22.—President Wilson told inquirers to-day he was supporting the provision in the naval bill to sell the battleships Mississippi and Idaho to Greece. He has been assured by A. Vouros, Greek charge d'affaires, that the battleships are not to be used in any immediate war. Mr. Wilson told callers that if he had any idea that the vessels were to be used against Turkey or any other nation he would not support the project.

The Greek charge d'affaires and Commander Tsouklas, of the Greek navy, had an engagement later to-day to discuss the question with Mr. Wilson.

The Turkish government has protested formally against the proposed sale of the battleships Mississippi and Idaho to Greece.

BUENOS AYRES HAS 1,560,163 POPULATION

Buenos Ayres, June 22.—Figures of the census of the city of Buenos Ayres, recently taken, show the number of inhabitants to be 1,560,163. In 1900 the total was 821,291.

FIFTY BODIES RECOVERED FROM HILLCREST TUNNEL

Eighty Grave Diggers Prepare Last Resting Places for Dead—Messages of Sympathy to Bereaved Sent by King George and Duke of Connaught

Hillcrest, Alta., June 22.—Discovery by rescuers of fifty bodies in one of the tunnels of mine No. 20 of the Hillcrest Collieries, Ltd., to-day brought up to 181 the total of recovered dead at the mine, wrecked by an explosion last Friday.

Eighty grave diggers worked all day in the little mountainside cemetery just outside the village, and by night it is expected a great part of the former male population of the mining colony will be resting there.

Ottawa, June 22.—The governor-general has received the following cablegram from King George sympathizing with the sufferers in the Hillcrest mine disaster.

"I am grieved to hear through the press of the terrible disaster at Hillcrest coal mine by which it is feared many have lost their lives. Please express my deepest sympathy with the suffers and also with the families of those who have perished.

"GEORGE."

A message has also been received from Rt. Hon. Lewis Harcourt, secretary of state for the colonies, expressing the sympathy of the British government.

As soon as a report is received as to the extent of the disaster and the need for assistance a grant will be made by the government through governor-general's warrant.

Premier Borden has already wired his sympathy.

The mounted police has been notified to lend every possible assistance.

Lethbridge, Alta., June 22.—The following is a copy of the telegram sent to John Stirling, chief mine inspector, by the governor-general, conveying an expression of sympathy from the Duke and Duchess of Connaught. "I am commanded by their Royal Highnesses the Governor-General and the Duchess of Connaught to express their deepest sympathy in the terrible calamity at Hillcrest. Kindly make known to the public in a suitable manness and also express Mrs. Bulyea's and my own regrets.

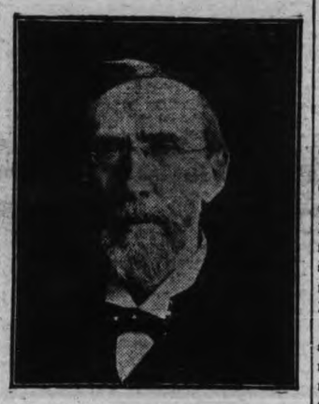

"G. H. V. BULYEA,
"Lieut.-Governor of Alberta."

The following was received from the minister of mines:

"Accept sympathy in full of appalling disaster. If I can do anything let me know.

"R. W. BROCK."

QUEBEC GIVES WELCOME TO GOVERNOR-GENERAL

Reference Made to Empress of Ireland Disaster and Memories of Office in Canada.

Quebec, June 22.—The members of the Quebec bar and bench officially welcomed the Duke of Connaught this morning. The vessels on the river, including the grim looking representatives of the British navy were gay with bunting. Along the route to the courthouse school children were drawn up and the court house was thronged with people. The inquiry into the loss of the Empress of Ireland, over which Lord Mersey has been presiding for the last week, was temporarily suspended to enable his lordship, the other members of the court and counsel engaged to attend the reception. E. B. Batonnier, of the Quebec bar, read an address of welcome on behalf of the members of the Quebec bar.

In the course of his reply the Duke of Connaught said: "Our stay in Canada leaves with us only the most charming remembrances. Wherever we have been among the different people which form the Canadian nation not only have we received evidence of the loyalty of the people, but have found ourselves in an atmosphere of friendship easier to feel than to describe. The three years which I shall soon have passed in Canada will never be lost from my memory. They are among the best that I have lived, and you may be sure that the deep interest which I take in your beautiful country will not disappear with my departure."

Referring to the inquiry into the Empress disaster, the governor-general said: "On an occasion like this there is one fact which I cannot pass in silence. I mean the tribunal that is sitting in this court house, presided over by a judge of the English Court of Admiralty, a judge whose reputation is world wide. With him sit two eminent Canadian judges, one a distinguished French-Canadian, the other a chief justice from New Brunswick. Great English and Canadian members of the bar are conducting this case, and with them are colleagues of theirs from the United States to whom we are glad to wish the most cordial welcome."

MILITIA NOT ALLOWED TO ACT AS AN ESCORT

Quebec, June 22.—Permission has been refused by Hon. Col. Sam Hughes to the Sixth regiment of Levis to take part in the procession which will escort Cardinal Begin to-morrow on his arrival from Rome. This being an unusual occasion the officers wrote Col. J. Landry, commanding officer, Quebec, for permission. Col. Landry transmitted the request to Ottawa and word has been received from the minister to the effect that the regulations of the militia of Canada must be adhered to.

OIL LANDS WORTH ENORMOUS AMOUNT WON BY RAILWAYS

Washington, June 22.—Transcontinental railways won their fight for title to some $700,000,000 worth of oil lands when the supreme court to-day held void the clause in the patents making the land revert to the government if found to contain minerals.

The court held that the patents were irregular, but that they could not be attacked collaterally by other claimants, but could only be set aside by a direct attack by the government.

Justice Vandeventer, for the court, incidentally emphasized the claim that the government's time in which it could attack the patents had expired in 1900 or 1901.

FRANCE WILL COLLECT FOREIGN INCOME TAX

Banks Ordered to Keep Check; Severe Penalties Provided for Non-Fulfillment.

Paris, June 22.—The French government issued to-day regulations under which a tax of 5 per cent is to be collected on incomes received in France from foreign stocks, bonds and securities of whatever form, including government bonds.

The regulations go into force July 1. They are intricate and detailed. The regulations require banks to keep a record of all coupons, cheques or other instruments of credit used to transfer or collect interest from abroad. Severe penalties are to be inflicted on persons seeking to evade the new law. The extreme limit is a year's imprisonment and there is a series of heavy fines.

Geneva, Switzerland, June 22.—The vaults of the Swiss banks are stated to be literally crammed with securities sent here from France and Germany by persons who desire to avoid the heavy taxes laid on capital in those countries.

TRIAL FLIGHTS OF MACHINE TO CROSS ATLANTIC PLANNED

Hammondsport, N. Y., June 22.—The danger of encountering storms if the start of the proposed trans-Atlantic flight of the America is postponed after the middle of July has caused the builders of the flyer here to make every effort to begin the trial flights immediately. It was planned to launch the America to-day, after which Lieut. John C. Porte, his chief pilot, was expected to make the first trial flight. Miss Katherine Masson, of Hammondsport, has been selected to name the craft.

It was at first intended that the flying boat should try for the London Daily Mail prize of $50,000 in the early fall. The time was changed to early in July after Lieut. Porte decided to fly by the southern route and make stops at the Azores and in Spain, instead of attempting to make the entire distance across the Atlantic in a single flight.

LORDS WILL DISCUSS HOME RULE MEASURE

Ulster Counties May Stay Out Until After Two General Elections

London, June 22.—It is the intention of the Asquith government to offer all the counties of Ulster the opportunity to vote themselves out of home rule until two general elections have passed in Great Britain. A bill will be introduced in the House of Lords on behalf of the government this week for this purpose. A statement to this effect was made on Saturday by Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, when speaking publicly at Denmark Hill in South London.

Commenting on the chancellor's statement the Times says to-day: "The assumption is that the government, which is fully aware of the inadequate of the original offer intends to yield to pressure from the House of Lords rather than frame an acceptable scheme itself. It hopes thus to save its face from John Redmond who has plainly prevented the government so far from making concessions which the bulk of the Liberal party regarded as desirable."

While Lloyd George was declaring that this week's bill in the House of Lords would embody the prime minister's standing offer of county option to Ulster, Sir Edward Carson in Lancashire was saying that if it did he would once more describe it as an hypocritical sham and his party would prevent it becoming law.

"In the near future, therefore," says the Daily Chronicle, "the government will be confronted with the alternative of either widening county option or letting it be vetoed by the House of Lords. The government's right course then will be to let it be vetoed."

"The fact is," continues the Chronicle, "that scarcely anybody in Ireland wants exclusion. The Carsonites never wanted it except as a cry through which they could defeat home rule. Ever since it was definitely offered them in conjunction with the certainty of home rule for the rest of Ireland, their care has been to find excuses for not accepting it. For these reasons we shall shed no tears when the House of Lords tumbles the possibilities of exclusion to the ground. The country will then take note that exclusion has been fairly offered and its rejection is due to those who pretend to want it."

BUTTE MINE WORKERS FORMING NEW UNION

Will Not Harbor I. W. W. Men or Affiliate With Western Federation.

Butte, Mont., June 22.—With preparations going quietly but rapidly forward for the permanent organization of the Butte mine workers' union, the body created yesterday by the secessionists from the Butte miners' union of the Western Federation of Miners, a feeling of hope pervades the business interests that the community may yet escape from further business stagnation as a result of labor's internal strife.

President McDonald's statement that the new union would have nothing to do with the I. W. W. and that it would be no haven for the itinerant I. W. W.'s preachers, is the basis for many optimistic opinions regarding the situation.

Although President Charles H. Moyer of the federation insists that his scheme of conciliation, to be announced at the old union's meeting to-morrow, is the only plan by which peace can be restored, those who are opposing him say he will be brought to a realization that the federation has lost practically all of its support among local miners.

ONTARIO NOMINATION DAY.

Toronto, June 22.—To-day is nomination day throughout the province of Ontario, when the candidates chosen by the conventions in all the ridings will be officially nominated. The contest is marked by much greater interest than was attached to the last two provincial elections.

KOMAGATA HEARING NOW BEFORE COURT

Wazir Singh is Made Principal in Test Case at Vancouver

PUBLIC MEETING IN VANCOUVER TO-MORROW

Suggestion Made That Tugs Should Be Hired to Tow Emigrant Ship Out

SOCIALIST ADVISES HINDUS TO GO HOME

Vancouver, June 22.—The battleground of the Komagata Maru Hindus was transferred to court this morning, when a motion was made for a mandamus to compel the immigration authorities to bring down their ruling in the case of Wazir Singh.

As Inspector Reid has not yet been served with papers in connection with the case, and as sufficient time has not been given to counsel to prepare affidavits it was agreed that the motion should stand over until to-morrow for argument. In the meantime efforts will be made to serve notice on Inspector Reid and to prepare the affidavits. The section of the immigration act under which the applicants are making their claim for a mandamus order reads: "At the conclusion of the court of inquiry, the board shall immediately give their decision."

In the case of Wazir Singh, the board heard the evidence ten days ago, but has not yet given its decision, and did not intend to give any until all the cases in the Komagata Maru had been heard.

Mayor Baxter has been asked to call a mass meeting of citizens at the horse show building to discuss the Komagata Maru situation. It is probable that the meeting will be held on Tuesday night, following the departure of the Japanese cruisers, which are expected to leave on Tuesday morning. It has been thought better not to hold the meeting until after the warships have gone.

"I have been told that a proposal to get up a subscription for the purpose of chartering tugs to tow the Komagata Maru out of the harbor will be made at the meeting," declared James Carnahan this morning. Mr. Carnahan is one of the citizens responsible for the proposed public meeting.

The opinion was expressed at the city hall this morning, however, that the Dominion government authorities would not be likely to countenance any action on the part of the citizens to forcibly take the Maru out of the harbor against the wishes of the passengers on the boat.

At a meeting held in the Dominion hall yesterday afternoon, H. M. Fitzgerald, a Socialist speaker, strongly urged that the Hindus on the Komagata Maru be persuaded to return to their native land, and spread the spirit of revolt among their countrymen, and that the East Indians resident here follow their example. His sentiments were endorsed by several of the speakers who addressed the Hindus at the meeting in their native tongue.

"There is nothing here for you," Fitzgerald said, after a scathing condemnation of the so-called capitalist press and an exposition of the doctrines of Socialism. "You had better tell your countrymen to return to India filled with revolt, their souls imbued with the spirit that we as wage slaves here, and to use the fighting powers which they have demonstrated they possess in serving their empire on the battlefield, in fighting for your own liberty.

"Just fancy," he remarked, with biting irony in his tones, "the 216,000,000 of you people being bossed by a tinpot little nation living in an insignificant little island thousands of miles away, and wanting to come to a country where there are so many workmen who would like to get out."

The meeting adopted the following resolution to be at once telegraphed to Premier Borden and the secretary of state for India:

"Whereas, the Hindustani passengers on the Komagata Maru are unlawfully prevented by the immigration authorities from consulting with their legal advisors and procuring provisions and water from their Hindu friends, making their imprisonment aboard the vessel a lot to which even cattle would not be subjected, and whereas, such brutal and unlawful treatment of Britishers of the same type would not be tolerated in India, we urge the Dominion authorities under the principle: 'Do unto others as you would they would do unto you' to see that the Hindus are saved from the high-handed actions of the immigration department.

"We further protest that the actions of the immigration authorities in Vancouver are as unlawful as those of anarchists and are so provoking that the Hindus shall not forget or forgive the powers that be if they do not remedy the situation."

ENGINEERS ARE SENT TO THE PEACE RIVER

D. A. Thomas Has Parties Out Surveying; Leave Athabasca To-day

London, June 22.—D. A. Thomas, head of the Cambrian coal combine, whose stay in the United States and the Canadian northwest has extended over three months, makes the following statement on the subject of his visit, the third within eighteen months.

"I am seriously interested," he said, "in coal and mineral development in northern British Columbia and Alberta, and to-day several small parties of engineers were due to leave Athabasca for Peace River for the purpose of making surveys and to locate minerals.

"The district is well-known to be richly endowed both in minerals and for agriculture. Some of the finest wheat in the world," added Mr. Thomas, "is grown there, and recently some raised at Vermillion, on Peace river, won the first prize at Chicago exhibition."

Mr. Thomas declared that the labor problem was just as serious in Canada as in England. Probably it was more serious on the other side owing to the different nationalities to be dealt with. In the West Virginian coal mines there were fifteen different races engaged. The race that predominated in the mines was the Welsh.

Mr. Thomas said finally that it might be regarded as a tribute to free trade that trade depression appeared to be more acute in the United States and Canada than in England.

The Price of Neglect

When a property owner dies without a valid will, the legal formalities connected with the settling of his estate are complicated.

First, an application has to be made to the court for the appointment of an administrator. This administrator, if a private person, has to furnish bonds at the cost of the estate.

Then, every time a parcel of the real estate has to be dealt with, a fresh application to the court must be made at the cost of the estate.

All this money loss can be avoided by the simple expedient of making a will. Let us assist you in making yours. Our service is free of charge.

COLOGNE WILL HAVE 635,000 POPULATION

Third City of Germany in Size Was Once Keen in Rivalry for Business.

Cologne, Germany, June 21.—Cologne is about to add 50,000 to its population, and thereby become the third city in size in Germany, only Berlin and Hamburg ranking above it. Through the incorporation of Muehlheim and Mehrheim, both lying on the right bank of the Rhine, the city's population will rise to 635,000. Its total area will be more than 45 square miles, or three times as much as Berlin. Cologne's city limits, will reach far out into the country and embrace some two dozen towns and villages.

In connection with the incorporation, the Cologne newspapers are recalling the history of the relations between that city and Muelheim, from which it appeared that the sharpest trade and political rivalry between the two cities existed some hundreds of years ago, a rivalry that took on forms never imagined in the sharpest conflicts between boom towns in the new world. Plunderings, murders and burnings were the regular thing in the fight between Cologne and Muelheim in the middle ages.

WHITE ANTS PLANNED TO MURDER TWENTY-THREE

Unlawful Society in Portugal Organized for Crime Broken Up; Trial Pending.

Lisbon, June 21.—A political secret society which had for its object the murder of 23 persons has just been broken up. Before this was accomplished one victim had been put to death.

The organization is called The White Ants, its headquarters being in the village of Alcabideche, on the outskirts of Lisbon. The chief government authority of the town, who is a member of The White Ants, and a number of his underlings, all of them members of the society, are accused of seeking to do away with the certain members of the Moderate Opposition Republican party.

The White Ants belong to the Democratic Republican party. The first victim was murdered on his way home from a ball. A party of five of the White Ants had secreted themselves behind a wall near the man's home, and as he was about to open the door, they fired upon him. He fell mortally wounded. The chief authority of the village later was questioned, and then arrested. A list of the 23 persons to be murdered was found in his possession, the list being headed by the murdered man's name. The trial is awaited with interest.

MISS HAVEMEYER TO MARRY EARL EUSTON

Daughter of Sugar Magnate of United States Will Enter British Nobility.

New York, June 22.—Advices from London announce the engagement of Miss Edythe Havemeyer, daughter of the late Henry Havemeyer, of New York, and the Earl of Euston. The earl, who was born in 1850, is the heir of the Duke of Grafton, who is 93 years old. Miss Edythe Havemeyer has made England her home for some years. In 1895, at the age of 22, she caused something of a social stir by announcing her independence and breaking away from family ties. She had been living with her married sister in Dumbartonshire, Scotland. She went to London and fitted up her own home, where she has since been living with a chaperon.

PRUSSIAN TITLES ARE SOLD ON COMMISSION

Could Be Court Dentist on Paying Bonus of About $2,000

Berlin, June 21.—Karl Liebknecht, the Socialist leader and member of the Reichstag whose revelations last year resulted in the conviction of a number of Krupp officials and army officers of bribery, has again unearthed affairs that are engaging the attention of the prosecuting attorney and seem likely to result in criminal prosecutions.

Liebknecht charges, and supports his charges with strong evidence, that trafficking in titles on a commission basis is carried on in Prussia, and that certain titles are, or were, up to two years ago, granted for money considerations. The minister of education has made a public denial of the latter part of the accusations, declaring that titles, or at least, that of professor, are not to be had for money. He has, however, directed an investigation of the other charges, and it is now under way.

Liebknecht tried to make his disclosures at the conclusion of his speech in the Reichstag on the armaments trust, but was ruled out of order by the speaker. Two or three days later he published the first instalment of his charges in Vorwaerts, the central organ of the Socialist party. It had to do with the late General von Lindenau, one of the most distinguished military men in the empire. Von Lindenau was for a long time chief of the great general staff; he was appointed governor of Metz shortly before his death, and it is declared that he might have become Prussian war minister had he lived. He enjoyed the especial confidence and esteem of the emperor.

Liebknecht published extracts from official documents showing that he general left debts exceeding $250,000 and practically no assets. He also published a copy of a letter from the general to a certain physician, acknowledging the receipt of a large sum of money, to be repaid in case he did not receive the title of professor within one year. In a further article, Liebknecht declared that von Lindenau had for years dealt in orders and titles.

The non-Socialist press found it impossible to deny the probative force of Liebknecht's documents, but declared that the case was a solitary, sad instance. Thereupon Liebknecht published a facsimile of a letter from a certain Dr. Ludwig to an unnamed physician, dealing with the obtaining of the title of professor for the latter. In this letter, written more than two years ago, Ludwig declared that the matter was difficult and expensive, the cost being higher for foreigners than for Germans, higher for Jews than for Gentiles. The following conditions, he said, must be observed:

"1. You must, in order to observe the proprieties, submit a printed treatise. This need not be exhaustive, it is only a matter of form. For example, you publish an article in a scientific magazine and then have copies printed of it as a monograph, or you can have printed an article written especially for this purpose. This is only a matter of form, so that it can be said that you have published some scientific article.

"2. In a certain quarter you will pay $10,000 and $375 as commission."

Liebknecht followed this article up with two other letters of Ludwig's, one dealing with the obtaining of the title of professor, the other that of court dentist. The former, Ludwig wrote, involved meeting high financial demands. The latter would cost from $2,000 to $2,500.

INVENTS MACHINE THAT GUARDS WIRELESS WORDS

Tapping of Air Messages Prevented by Device of Norwegian.

London, June 21.—Secrecy in wireless communication is said to be assured by an invention announced by Capt. A. N. Hoyland, of the Norwegian navy. The machine is one for transmission and automatic receipt of printed messages in the manner of typewriting. The inventor claims to have typed messages by wireless waves between Berlin and the big station at Nauen, a distance of 34 miles. He says he has perfected a relay which so amplifies wireless signals that the typewriting device may be operated over greater distances.

The secrecy feature of the invention established by the fact that the sending apparatus may be adjusted at a moment's notice so as to employ any one of 720 different code arrangements of the alphabet, while the receiving device would automatically register the messages in decided and legible form. Only dots are used in the transmission, and by their spacing the mechanism of the receiving apparatus is controlled so as to reconstruct the message. Capt. Hoyland declares that the apparatus could be worked in any wireless system, and that it would render wireless "tapping" quite impossible.

GOVERNMENT TO ASSIST IN HILLCREST DISASTER

Ottawa, June 22.—The government here has communicated with the authorities at the Hillcrest mines in Alberta, where the recent terrible disaster occurred, and it is expected that when the extent of the disaster has been made known and the amount of suffering ascertained, a governor-general's warrant will be issued, providing a substantial grant for the families of those who have been killed in the accident. J. D. McNiven, one of the officials of the department of labor, has been sent out to make a full investigation.

Syracuse, N. Y., June 22.—Investigation of the launch accident which resulted in the drowning of twelve persons in the Oswego canal last night is being made under direction of Coroner Moore. There were 20 passengers on the boat, and it was reported to-day that the craft was licensed to carry not more than ten passengers.

Seven children are numbered among the victims. Three women and two men were also drowned. Only one of the children in the boat at the time of the accident was saved.

London, June 22.—Morman Bransby Williams, who probably had more to do than any other man with the construction of the earlier railroads in the British Isles, died to-day. He was born in 1825 in Wales, and after retiring from the engineering profession, was for twenty years vice-chairman of the Metropolitan Bank of England and Wales.

MANITOBA PROVINCIAL ELECTIONS ON JULY 10

BUYS MOUNTAIN TOP FOR PERSONAL USES

Capitalist Purchases Grossglocker and Raises Storm of Protest in Germany.

Berlin, June 21.—German and Austrian alpinists are alarmed by the news that the Grossglockner and its surrounding region are to be practically closed to tourists owing to the fact that the territory has been sold to a rich capitalist of Bochum, a Prussian mining and iron centre. The Grossglockner group is the favorite point of the Tyrol for high mountain climbers; and the German-Austrian Alping Society has erected one or two refuge huts on it. The members of that society are now filling the columns of German and Austrian papers with their protests against the closing of the mountain paths and roads. Their indignation has only been increased by the well-authenticated report that the buyer intends to stock the region with the ibex and convert it into an exclusive hunting preserve.

The Bochum capitalist, however, has declared that he means to leave a certain part of the region open to the public

WIRELESS OPERATORS ARE TO BE LICENSED

New Canadian Regulations Made Covering Public and Private Apparatus

Ottawa, June 21.—Elaborate regulations have been issued by the naval department governing the issuing of licenses and the control of the operation of all radio telegraph equipments in Canada, whether in the hands of amateurs or for commercial purposes, either on land or on Canadian registered vessels. The regulations are based on the uniform rules drawn up two years ago by the international radio telegraph convention. They apply not only to the professional wireless operator, but also to the hundreds of amateur operators throughout Canada, whose indiscriminate sending out of wireless messages leads to serious interference with the work of government or commercial stations.

Hereafter every wireless operator must have a license from the naval service, and must comply with all the conditions of such license on penalty of a fine not exceeding $50 or three months' imprisonment.

For a limited coast license the annual charge is $10; for a public commercial license $50; for a private commercial license $10; for an experimental license $5, and for an amateur license $1.

Provision is made in each license for the character of the wave lengths to be used and the range allowed. All amateur operators are required, when operating, to listen for the signal, "S. T. P.," which will indicate that they are interfering with commercial business. If that signal is heard and the operator does not stop, his license will be cancelled. A distinctive call for station is allotted with the license, and no station must be worked by anyone not holding at least an amateur experimental certificate of proficiency secured from the naval service department.

For ocean-going vessels it is provided that there must be an emergency source of power for operating instantly available, and hours are specified during which the operators must be constantly on watch.

NICARAGUA TREATY IS UNDER INVESTIGATION

Washington, June 22.—Investigation of all and any transactions leading up to the proposed treaty with Nicaragua by which the United States proposes to pay $3,000,000 for an inter-oceanic canal route and naval base, and to extend a protectorate over that country is provided in the Smith resolution ordered favorably reported by the senate foreign relations committee.

CONSCIENCE STRICKEN PEOPLE RETURN MONEY

Washington, June 22.—Secretary McAdoo received to-day a $630 contribution to the conscience fund from someone in Burlington, La. There was no clue to the identity of the sender of the record contribution for the current fiscal year. Nearly a half million dollars has found its way back to the government in that mysterious fashion since Madison's time.

ZAMAR TAKES FIELD TO STOP REVOLUTION

Washington, June 22.—Seriousness of the Haytien revolution situation has caused President Zamor to take the field in person. During the president's absence from the capital the government will be in the hands of a commission which will act with the cabinet.

Conditions in Port au Prince are reported quiet.

FREIGHT RATES EXCESSIVE.

Washington, June 22.—Many thousands of dollars must be returned with interest to wool growers of the west, principally in Wyoming, Utah, Nevada, Idaho, Colorado, New Mexico and Montana, by railroads which have carried their clip to eastern markets at freight rates which the interstate commerce commission to-day held excessive.

Mr. Dennis Mackin, Maxton, Sask., writes: "I have just finished using the sixth box of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I must say that when I commenced using it my nerves were so bad that I could scarcely get any sleep. I would lie in bed nearly all night without sleep, and anyone who has this trouble knows the misery of sleepless nights. The Nerve Food helped me from the start, and has built up my nervous system wonderfully. I now enjoy good, sound sleep, and instead of feeling tired in the morning I am strong and healthy, and well fitted for my daily work."

SEARCH BEING MADE FOR MISSING WOMEN

Schenectady, N. Y., June 22.—Police began to-day a search for Theresa Faust, a 16-year-old girl missing from her home here more than three weeks, in the belief that she might be the victim in the Mohawk river murder mystery.

According to Miss Faust's parents she wore a pink underskirt when last seen. A piece of such a garment was found with the torso taken from the river last Friday. While Miss Faust was only 16 years old, she was large for her age. Physicians said that the torso was that of a woman possibly of 25 years.

Search also still is being prosecuted for Miss Sarah Meader, who disappeared on May 25.

HEAVY RANS WASH OUT TRACK AND HOLD TRAINS

Kansas City, Mo., June 22.—Heavy rains early to-day washed out railroad tracks in Eastern Kansas and brought to a standstill several railroad lines in the affected district.

Up to date June, 1914, is the sixth wettest June in 28 years. The precipitation this month is in marked contrast with June, 1913, when no rain fell during the month.

CUP CHALLENGE.

New York, June 22.—Coincident with the departure of the international polo trophy, the Westchester cup, which Lord Mimborne's British four won at Meadowbrook, officials of the polo association started machinery at work to produce a real all-United States four to battle for the cup next year at Hurlingham.

W. A. Hazard, secretary of the polo association, suggested a scheme whereby the east, south and west will meet in tryouts similar to those which govern all A. A. U. contests. The strongest aggregation of poloists developed by these is to be sent to Hurlingham.

"LET THEM GO HOME."

The Vancouver News-Advertiser has a leading article dealing with the Hindus on the Komagata Maru under the caption "Let Them Go Home." As far as Canada is concerned, nobody is trying to prevent the unhappy passengers aboard the vessel from going home. The difficulty lies in the fact that they refuse to go, and it would be a formidable task to make them do so against their will. In fact an attempt to take the Komagata Maru out of the harbor by force is out of the question. The Japanese government will not permit its cruisers to be a party to such a manoeuvre, nor will it interfere in any way on behalf of the owners. The Consul-General of that nation at Ottawa makes this quite clear in pointing out that the chartering of the vessel and its attendant conditions were matters of private business arrangement with which his government had nothing to do.

It is not unlikely that the Hindus themselves will realize the hopelessness of their case and cut the Gordian knot by returning across the Pacific willingly. Their present situation is becoming more uncomfortable every day, and there is no relief in sight. We note that the immigration officers fear that if the matter reaches the courts the applicants may beat the regulations and slip in. This is not a very reassuring admission. We understood that it was on the authority of our laws that the Hindus were being kept out.

THE NEW KNIGHTS.

They are now the Right Honorable Sir Robert Laird Borden, G. C. M. G., and the Honorable Sir George Eulas Foster, G. C. M. G. The Prime Minister, the Minister of Trade and Commerce and the other prominent Canadians who have been singled out for distinction in His Majesty's birthday honor list will receive the genuine congratulations of the country without regard to political divisions, for in honoring their representative men the sovereign is honoring the Canadian people. This is particularly true in the case of the Prime Minister and Mr. Foster, or Sir George Foster, his new styic. Their honors have not been due to the exercise of any high placed political influence but have sprung voluntarily from the desire of the crown to recognize in what it considers to be a fitting manner their prominence in the public life of a great dominion.

Around the knighting of the Minister of Trade and Commerce there is what newspaper writers describe as an excellent human interest story. He was the poor relation when the present government assumed office. Although the ablest parliamentarian in the party ranks, he was side-tracked to what was considered a relatively unimportant department. His portfolio of other years was given to another, who up to within six months before had been a Liberal. Some of his colleagues did not feel comfortable with him around, for they had the uncanny suspicion that in spite of the minor office he held his parliamentary ability would make him the successor to the leadership in the event of the retirement of the party's head.

So he was given plenty of travelling. As a member of the Imperial trade commission he became the champion globe trotter among the public men of Canada. The farther he went the higher he was esteemed by some of his brethren and none read the cabled reports of his eloquent speeches in Australia with greater enthusiasm and approval than the Hon. Robert Rogers, whose fine Roman hand had much to do with the minister's peregrinations. But if Mr. Foster accomplished nothing for Canadian trade, he talked himself into eminence, and now he is a member of a most distinguished order, sharing equal rank on the roll-call with the Prime Minister, the very last thing, we are sure, Mr. Rogers dreamed of. In consigning the minister to what he thought was a political Tophet he translated him to Valhalla.

The Honorable Sir Charles Boucher de Boucherville, M. D., C. M. G., G. C. M. G., is a former premier of Quebec. He is the oldest member of the Senate, having just passed his ninety-second year. Undoubtedly the recommendation in his case was prompted largely by considerations of Quebec politics, for it is many years since the senator has been even ordinarily active in public affairs. The honoring of Hon. Adam Beck, of the Ontario cabinet, is a well-deserved tribute to his services in the development of the hydro-electric enterprise of that province, but the person who can explain why J. A. M. Aitkins should have been singled out from the two hundred private members of the House of Commons is himself entitled to a dukedom. Had J. H. Burnham, M. P., of Peterboro, been knighted in recognition of his efforts to bring about the abolition of titles in Canada by statute, we would not have been surprised. It would have been in the nature of retribution.

CANAL TOLLS.

International as well as national tributes are being showered upon President Wilson for the tactful yet masterful manner in which he handled the canal tolls measure and worked it through Congress. British and European authorities generally are agreed that there could be but one interpretation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty and that President Wilson saved the reputation for good faith of the American nation when he insisted that congress should accept the obvious interpretation instead of the restricted one which found favor with a former majority in congress and with a minority of the prominent men and newspapers of the country. But, according to the Chicago Tribune and many other leaders in the newspaper field, there was much more involved in the repeal of the tolls clause than a mere matter of keeping faith with foreign nations. There was a question of protecting the interests of the American people. It was the American coast shipping combine that chiefly was interested in and originally procured the passage of the act exempting American shipping from canal tolls—and that view is not absurd when the hold trusts and combines had on the last congress is considered. Hence, the Tribune says: "The passage of tolls exemption repeal closes, at least for the time being, another stage in the perpetual fight against privilege. It saves the canal from exploitation. It heads off another subsidy grab."

TO TOUR THE PROVINCE.

The forthcoming tour of the province by the Attorney-General, the details of which are announced in the government press, will be regarded as foreshadowing the early retirement of Sir Richard McBride from the premiership. There have been other signs and portents of this on the political horizon for some time. The Attorney-General has been trying on Sir Richard's armor piece by piece. He has worn his sword on occasion, has endeavored to accommodate himself to the helmet and breastplate, and has been practicing, metaphorically speaking, on Sir Richard's prancing charger. Wearing the whole regalia, excepting the plume and the Premier's coat of arms, he is going to see what he can do with it among the wavering ranks of his party throughout the province. He will find plenty of thorns in his pathway—the tares which have sprung from the seeds sown by the "first Conservative government British Columbia ever had" in its ten years of office. He also will find a lemon or two. We know they are there, for otherwise Sir Richard would not now contemplate a graceful retirement.

We learn that the first leg of the tour will consist of a visit to New British Columbia. There the Attorney-General will behold the serried stakes of those land speculators who obtained millions of acres in violation of the laws of the province. The Minister of Lands, who, we are informed, will accompany Mr. Bowser, will be more than ordinarily interested in those stakes, each having been driven under his benediction. They represent that ideal colonization policy embodied in the Attorney-General's laconic dictum that "the speculator should have his chance."

If Mr. Bowser desires to render his visit to the north productive of beneficial results to the province he ought to spend some time reorganizing his provincial police force along the Skeena. Those citizens of New Hazelton who passed a resolution requesting him to withdraw his policemen from the district because they were an obstacle to the administration of justice and the enforcement of law and order will give him plenty of enlightenment. They will furnish him with a list of homicides, thugs and highwaymen who are ranging at liberty; of the blind pigs which are flourishing without hindrance and the name of the constable who finds relaxation from his arduous duties by acting as emergency bartender in one of these illicit resorts. If he accomplishes a reformation in this respect the taxpayers will not begrudge the cost to them of the tour. This is of much greater importance to the province than the political fortunes of the Attorney-General and his friends.

MERELY DANDELIONS.

The tenacity of life and the prolificacy of weeds and such things as do not appear to fulfil any useful purpose in the economy of nature, from the point of view of the creature who considers himself boss of the natural world, are proverbial. Take the case of dandelions, the scourge of the man who essays to create a lawn in Victoria. How many crops a year will they produce even in the face of the sternest repressive measures? Then the seed floats around where it listeth and takes root with avidity in the very places where it is least desired, as every lawn-maker knows to his sorrow and pain, the latter generally in the back. Here is joyful news for such sufferers and confusion for those sceptics who say nothing worth while can come from a scientific agricultural institutions: Experiments at the Ontario Agricultural College show that dandelions are killed by a spray made of a solution of iron sulphate. We wonder if that fact is known generally by gardeners in British Columbia, or if it will be accepted in good faith if it is not known. Because gardeners proverbially are slow to adopt new suggestions and prone to controversy, according to persons who probably do not understand them and their methods. But if there be any royal or chemical road to the goal of dandelion annihilation, an experiment with iron sulphate is worth trying.

FARMERS' HANDICAP.

There are indications that the Canadian manufacturer is becoming more tolerant of the views of the Canadian farmer. Whether there is a reason for this unbending of mind that is not based altogether on altruism we shall not inquire. What we have to do with is the fact. That of itself is sufficiently interesting. At the late meeting of the manufacturers in Montreal the opinion appeared to be unanimous that the time had arrived for the sinking of old differences, antagonisms and misunderstandings, which became very pronounced and bitter at the time of the last Dominion general election and after and for the creation of a better understanding in the mutual interests of all concerned. One of the reasons for this softening on the part of the manufacturers was an address by Charles A. Dunning, manager of an elevator company in Saskatchewan. Possibly Mr. Dunning's statements opened the eyes of many of the manufacturers to certain facts in the farming industry which previously they had not understood. He showed how the western farmer is geographically worse off in regard to his markets than any other farmer in the world, the Argentine farmer being near the Amazon, the Australian near the sea, while Russian farmers and agriculturists of the United States were near rivers, and had an enormous consuming population right at their doors. The western farmer had thousands of miles of rail and water transportation to reckon with, and the truth was that he was to-day selling his wheat for perilously close to what it cost to produce. Mr. Dunning answered the demand of the manufacturers and easterners as to why westerners did not try mixed farming, by pointing out that many sections of prairie wheat land were totally unsuited because there was no water, though diversified farming was being encouraged. He said because wheat was more stable in price, it would for a long time be produced exclusively by many farmers. While developing his argument in this connection Mr. Dunning showed how heavily many farmers were pressed down by debts to implement-makers, and held that many homesteaders had paid toll to them from the first day they started farming. He said that 100,000 farmers in Saskatchewan owed $35,000,000 for machinery alone, and announced indiscriminate credit as a danger to be guarded against, and urged his audience to discourage it.

Mr. Dunning said the association could assist the western farmer by bearing in mind when making representations to the Dominion government for an increase in duties the economic position of the farmer. The western farmers were overwhelmingly free traders, and this had been brought about because they are the people who bear the burden of tariffs without receiving any benefit from them. Newcomers to the west were speedily imbued with the free trade ideas of those around them, and they could rest assured that if the protectionists of eastern Canada put on the screws too hard during their time of power there would be a great change eventually, due to the increased voting power of the west. No one regretted the division of feeling between eastern and western Canada more than he. On each side of the great barren stretch north of Lake Superior two classes were developing, causing a division which may place the future development of the Dominion in jeopardy. They of the west were as loyal to their country and Empire as easterners, and if all were to remain united in spirit they must make strenuous efforts to understand each other's ideals and each other's points of view. In short, they must compromise.

The controversy over Hindu immigration to Canada is raging far more fiercely in Great Britain than it is here, judging by the letter from a correspondent in the county of Sussex which we publish to-day. Or it may be that Old Country people are more inclined to freely express their opinions. We cannot help thinking that there is something lacking in the Dominion government's method of handling Gurdit Singh and his band of aspiring Indians. The longer action is delayed the more discussion there will be and the more impassioned it will become.

+ + +

We sympathize with the legitimate desire of the morning paper to make a good showing for Sir Robert Borden, particularly because of the herculean labor to which it set itself. History, however, will be less generous. It will record that the brief regime of this administration was marked by a serious business depression which passed away upon the return of the Liberal party to office.

+ + +

A century ago Napoleon went on his ill-fated excursion into Russia and afterwards wound up at Elba. This is a little tip for the Attorney-General. He should take heed lest his expedition into the interior of the province politically entombs him on the "banks of the Burrard he loves so well."

Those who were overlooked in the sovereign's birthday honors may take consolation from the fact that this country has a fountain-head of titles of its own. Colonel Hughes continues to shower honorary colonelcies promiscuously throughout the land.

+ + +

Titles are multiplying apace in Canada. Soon gentlemen with handles to their names will be as common as aldermen. Their rapid increase adds distinction to eminent statesmen and others who will not have them.

+ + +

The fact that the name of W. H. Price did not appear in the list of His Majesty's birthday honors does not mean that this gentleman was overlooked. He may have refused a knighthood.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE.

Toronto Star.

Now, under a Whitney ministry, we have a Government House that, with furnishings, will cost about a million dollars. What public purpose will it serve? The theory is that it is to be used to entertain the distinguished guests of Ontario. As a matter of fact, it is used mainly as a house of entertainment for Toronto society. Why the bulk of the people of Ontario, some two and a half million in number, should provide a mansion for the convenience of a couple of thousand society people, many of them having mansions of their own, is a mystery. No public business worth speaking of is transacted in Government House. Why should the public pay for it?

MOURNING WASTE.

Kingston Whig.

Among the wealthier classes in Great Britain the wearing of mourning is fast falling into desuetude, but it still remains a most burdensome custom among the poor. It is so, in fact, in most countries, and is a most noticeable social feature in China, where an extravagant funeral is demanded, even of the very poor, by custom. The slavery of custom and habit is hard to break, and hardest in that class which almost invariably has the most to gain by its abolition.

NO SEX DISCRIMINATION.

If female criminals wish to starve themselves in prison, they should receive neither more nor less consideration than would be shown under similar circumstances to male criminals. No one has yet heard of a man released from jail because he refused to eat.

Insists on English.—As a rule a Chinese who is brought up in police court does not know a word of English when he is arraigned, and an interpreter has to be employed. This morning the unusual sight was witnessed of a Celestial who insisted in speaking in the English tongue, or what he knew of it. There is a great probability of his being of unsound mind, the magistrate thinks. Crong is his name, and he was brought in by Mounted Constable Allan on Saturday night about ten o'clock, and locked up on a charge of vagrancy. He has been more or less under police surveillance for some time, as he has been hanging about Chinatown and living from hand to mouth, so far as could be seen. The case had to be delayed until the interpreter, June, could be got, and he proceeded to explain to the accused what he was charged with. Crong replied with a rambling statement in broken English. June told him to speak in Chinese, but Crong paid no attention to this, wandering on in English about Sidney and the detectives and other things. As it was apparent to the magistrate that the man is not of sound mind, he was put back for medical examination.

In the other instance, however, Mr. Palleantari, admitted he was to blame. "I do not understand English," he said amid laughter, "so I did not know what the officer meant when he waved his arms." The city offered Mrs. Warwick $8,000; she asks through Thornton Fell, K. C. over $13,000. S. A. Baird, another landowner, asks $3,819 for property which the city values at $2,000. It is also required for the Pandora avenue extension. Mr. Fell is also acting in this case.

The hospital building will cost about $30,000; the stores about $25,000. Plans of each have been lodged.

Delicious refreshments were provided, including quantities of delicious strawberries and cream, which were generously dispensed. The event was enormously enjoyed by everyone, and the Ladies of the Maccabees will be welcome hostesses on any future occasion on which they care to repeat the hospitality.

Suit on Old Mortgage.—A suit on a mortgage made in 1891 was tried before Chief Justice Hunter in supreme court to-day. Mrs. Elizabeth Alice Carter is plaintiff and sues to redeem a mortgage on property near Christ Church cathedral, lots 81 and 90 in Rae street. Mrs. Agnes Bell, executrix of the late H. P. Bell, the mortgagee, is the principal defendant. The mortgagee went into possession of the property in 1899 and the plaintiff alleges in this action that the late Mr. Bell illegally sold the property to himself under power of sale. Inasmuch as the mortgage was for $4,500 and the property was recently sold for $36,000 the matter is of considerable financial importance to both parties. W. C. Moresby is prosecuting the claim of the plaintiff and E. C. Mayer is defending.

University School Successes.—The boys of University school have again recently proved that they can hold their own against those of any other school in Canada. Of the eighty boys under fifteen who wrote at the various centres throughout Canada for entrance to the naval college the three who entered from the University school were all successful, and were placed thus—A. P. Musgrave, second in all Canada; Wallace B. Creery, third; Eric R. Frampton, tenth. Musgrave is a son of Captain Musgrave, of Lillooet. Another University school boy, H. C. Guernsey, was lately awarded a cadetship at the Royal Naval college, Osborne, Isle of Wight, taking his examination direct from the school. In the recent essay competition inaugurated throughout the Dominion by the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire the essay of C. L. Shaw, of the same school, was awarded special mention.

Chapter Reorganized.—A reorganization meeting of the Daisy Chain chapter of the I. O. D. E., was held on Saturday afternoon at the home of the regent, Mrs. E. A. McDiarmid, Belmont avenue. Considerable business was discussed, and the following officers were elected: Regent, Mrs McDiarmid; secretary, Miss Denise Harris; treasurer, Miss Norah MacEachern; standard-bearer, Miss Norma Macdonald. There were eleven members present, and among the visitors were Mesdames E. Home, David Miller, Bennett, R. J. Robertson and Rose. The Daisy Chain chapter is the first children's chapter founded in the province, but for some time after its formation interest lapsed, and the purpose of the meeting was to revivify it. One of the proposed items in the programme for the forthcoming year is a concert, to be given in September, and members intend working during the summer months on this.

☆ ☆ ☆

New Post Offices.—Ten new post offices were established in this province on June 1 according to the latest issue of the Canada Gazette. These, with the postmasters, were as follows: Bamberton, Edwin Tomlin, and Marigold, W. H. Ellis; in the electoral district of Nanaimo, Gillies Bay, P. H. McElroy; Puntledge, Samuel Cowan; Topaz Harbor, W. J. Walker, and Vargas, Mrs. Helen Mahon, in Comox-Atlin. Silver Valley, A. B. Olmsted, and Stave Falls, W. P. Howard, in New Westminster; Criss Creek, Robert Baxter, in Yale-Cariboo; Donald, Mrs. E. M. Blackstone, in Kootenay. Point Cowan, which has been a summer office in Comox-Atlin, has been a regular post office since October 1 last. This is not the only thing the post office has just discovered. With reference to the closing of an office in Ontario early in the year "the department has now definitely learned that the office was closed on January 31." The department has also discovered since the issue of the April list that Macalister is in British Columbia and not in Alberta.

LAWNS AND LINGERIES

"What shall I get this summer?" is a question of deep interest to every woman.

When one notes the many interesting things the stores are showing it would seem as though the problem really was how to discriminate.

Just a glance through the advertising in to-day's Times and see how brimming over it is with news of the summer fashions.

With the question of what to wear so keenly in mind it would really seem as though the advertising would be the most interesting part of the paper to the average woman.

DECORATED GRAVES

Knights of Pythias Celebrated Annual Decoration Day; Service Held at Ross Bay Cemetery.

The Knights of Pythias yesterday celebrated their annual Decoration day, over 200 members of Far West Lodge No. 1 and Victoria Lodge No. 17 meeting at the Knights of Pythias hall, North Park street, at 2.30, and proceeding via North Park, Douglas, Vancouver and Richardson streets to Ross Bay cemetery, where the graves of about thirty of the former comrades of the order were decorated. The procession was an imposing one, being headed by the Fusiliers' band, while an automobile, decorated with hundreds of bouquets afterwards placed on the graves, moved slowly along with the rank of marchers.

The services at the cemetery were impressive and dignified, commencing with addresses by Chancellor-Commander W. V. Smith and Prelate Mackie, of No. 1 lodge, and Chancellor-Commander H. G. Bates and Prelate Owen Hartley, of Lodge No. 17. After this the combined lodges joined in the singing of "Nearer, My God, to Thee," with band accompaniment, after which the flowers were removed from the automobile and placed on the graves of members of the organization who had passed away during the last year. Reassembling at the call of the bugle, all united in singing "Abide with Me," this being followed by short addresses from the above-mentioned officers, who referred to the character of the departed brothers. The proceedings concluded with the doxology, after which the procession re-formed and marched back to the city.

THE VALUE OF PROTECTION.

The present stringency is teaching many a man for the first time in his life, what life insurance really means, and that it is without question the finest protection in the world. He sleeps sounder and meets the daily worries of business better next day because of the certainty that should anything happen to him during this time of strain, his life policies will provide ready cash for his family and prevent his business interests being sacrificed.

The Canada Life (Established 1847) a Home Company, with more than fifty millions assets offers exceptionally liberal terms to intending insurers, it will pay you to investigate.

At 6 o'clock he will be entertained to dinner, and address a meeting in room C of the Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock. A large attendance is expected. At the close of Mr. Campbell's address refreshments will be served.

Alleged Hindu Conspiracy.—Two Hindus stood together in the police court dock this morning on a charge of conspiring together to defraud another of their race, and were remanded until Thursday. Ganga Ram and Amar Singh are accused of having been concerned in a conspiracy to defraud Arnum Singh by means of a cheque for $300, the charge having been laid by a Mr. Woods, of Vancouver. The men were arrested by Constable Dryden, of the Saanich force. S. J. Pitts appeared for the defence and asked for an adjournment, which was granted, and bail was allowed in the sum of $500, in two sureties, in each case. The alleged offence was committed on January 31.

Jail for Three Months. — Three months in jail was the sentence given to John W. Cartwright to-day, he having been found guilty on Saturday of converting to his own use the sum of $19 which had been given to him by Mrs. Farnham to bank for her. R. C. Lowe, who defended the accused, asked for a suspended sentence with a condition that the money be repaid He had a statement to make as to the evidence given but the city prosecutor pointed out that this was inadmissible. Magistrate Jay did not think that the case was one for leniency, there having been a breach of trust. Punishment must be imposed to deter others from a similar offence, and three months was the least the court thought would meet the case.

CANADA'S BEST GRAND

All that is best in Canadian piano construction is represented in this splendid instrument. The craftsmanship begotten of almost half a century's experience stands behind its attractive appearance, underlies a myriad details of its fine construction.

GERHARD HEINTZMAN

SEE THE GENUINE

Gerhard Heintzman Pianos are masterpieces of the piano-builder's art. Built originally by one man in a workshop that formed part of a private residence nearly fifty years ago, they have won their way to the front rank of public approval by virtue of their excellence alone. To-day they are made in one of the largest piano factories in the entire continent, but, whereas hundreds are sent out now to one that was sent out in the beginning, the same man supervises every step of their construction, and exercises, if anything, even greater care than he did in the beginning.

The Gerhard Heintzman Grand, illustrated above, is the "de luxe" edition of this famous make. In its appearance it is fit to grace any music room. In its construction nothing has been slighted, nothing hurried. The sweet, pure, rich tone that you hear from it at the time you purchase it continues for a lifetime, taking on only a mellower and richer quality as the years pass. This is a piano that you can be proud of, an instrument to hand down to your children.

In spite of its excellnce, the genuine Gerhard Heintzman piano is very reasonable in price, and we are in a position to allow exceptionally good terms. We shall be very glad to talk the matter over with you at any time. Will you not come in this week?

PREACHED TO CHILDREN

Rev. Thos. Green Conducted Flower Service at Centennial Methodist Church.

Despite the un-Junelike weather yesterday, the Centennial Methodist church was well-filled with children for the special flower-day services held in the morning, Rev. Thomas Green preaching a very appropriate sermon from the text: "Consider the lilies of the field how they grow; they toil not neither do they spin (St. Matthew iv., 28.)

There were a number of lessons to be learned from the study of flowers, said Mr. Green. In the first place the flowers to which Jesus referred were weeds; no one cared for them but God. But these little wild blossoms of the field did not fret or worry about their growing, but expanded and blossomed just for the glory of it. Virtue was like flowers; it did not grow quickly, in lumps, but developed gradually under God's care. If God cared for the little flowers of the field how much more he would care for children.

If the second place, flowers always grew beautiful. The finest microscope revealed no coarseness in their texture. God's great concern was for the character of the robes worn by the soul of the child, and it was perhaps oftenest among the most poorly clad that the perfect garment of righteousness and beauty and holiness was to be found. Flowers, too, grew everywhere. They were to be found in the most remote places penetrated by mankind. They shone for God alone, as should the kind actions of children.

Mr. Green went on to tell the children of the different talents of flowers; some were beautiful, some merely sweet of perfume, while others combined both beauty and sweetness. The shapes also varied, but all variations had their usefulness. So with the talents of a child—no matter how humble they could be turned to good. Flowers yielded to cultivation, and greater types were evolved from the weed of the wilds. But no matter how highly cultivated even the garden and hot-house blooms would revert to weeds again if untended. Sunday schools were the gardens for the souls of children, and should be taken advantage of.

A final principle of life which was expounded rested in the fact that the fruit of the plant was found to develop only by the sacrifice of the flower. Children would have to deny themselves many things if they were to become strong in the doing of good.

Several roses in various stages of bloom were shown to the little people in the congregation, the speaker pointing out that the bud typified the child in the cradle-roll department, the full-blown rose the member of the junior Bible study class, and the fast ripening flower the adult Bible study class. A fragrant dried-up rose symbolized beautiful old age sweetened by kind thoughts and virtues.

Sentenced for Vagrancy.—Arthur Mason was sentenced to two months in jail on Saturday by Magistrate Jay for vagrancy. He begged for a chance to get to work, but his record was against him and he was convicted.

SHIP'S CREW REFUSE TO DO FURTHER WORK

Seamen on County of Linlithgow Says Food Gave Out Early in Voyage

Port Townsend, Wash., June 22.—Claiming that the food supply of the Chilean four-masted ship County of Linlithgow was short and unfit to use, the sailors of this vessel refused to do any work further than that necessary to bringing the vessel into port, and upon their arrival here Sunday morning asked that the Chilean consul at Seattle be called upon to settle their grievances. He will probably arrive to-day and investigate the matter.

Statements made by the sailors are to the effect that after eight days out from Iquique the food, with the exception of salt meat and one or two other varieties, gave out and that from then on they were not in physical condition to do anything further than barely handle the ship.

The crew is mixed, about half being white men and the others Chileans. Trouble arose among them and there was constant quarreling on the way up, it is stated. Just after anchor was dropped here yesterday a white man and one of the others settled their grievances in a fierce fist fight, in which the white man lost.

The Linlithgow was fumigated yesterday, and after discharging ballast will proceed to Winslow for dry-docking, after which she will load lumber for the west coast. The Linlithgow made Umatilla light eighteen days before she passed in at Cape Flattery.

The dissatisfaction amongst the crew was responsible for the lengthy voyage of the big square-rigger from Iquipue.

The Russian ship Imberhorne, which is still at anchor in the Royal roads, will be hauled out on the B. C. Marine ways next Thursday to have her hull scraped and painted. She will be out of the water for about two days. After being floated she will tow to Chemainus, where she will load 1,500,000 feet of lumber for Cape Town, South Africa.

The American barquentine Alta, Capt. Thonagel, is expected to show up off Cape Flattery almost any time. She is out 111 days from South Africa and made a call at Tasmania to land an ill seaman. She will be towed into the Royal roads to await orders.

PRESIDENT INBOUND.

At 4.30 o'clock this afternoon the Pacific Coast steamship President, Capt. Thomas, was due to arrive in port from San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco. She has 40 tons of cargo at this port. The President has a good passenger list.

FORTY VESSELS TO FORM GRAIN FLEET

Greatest Amount of Tonnage Billed to Load at Portland Since 1902

Portland, June 22.—Representing 90,264 tons net register, 40 vessels are under charter to load grain at Portland for the European markets, the greatest amount of tonnage engaged for a similar purpose at this particular period in the last 12 years, or since 1902, when there were 57 carriers on the list, aggregating 109,758 tons.

In recent years the nearest approach to the present showing was in 1907, when there were 40 vessels under charter, representing 86,467 tons net register. The 40 craft en route to and listed for Portland loading this year exceed in tonnage the fleet of 1907 by nearly 5,000, owing to the fact that nine of those headed in this direction are steamships, and of greater capacity than the sailers. The big fleet engaged so early in the season is taken as an indication that exporters are expecting one of the largest crops harvested in a number of years.

Two of the latest grain-carriers chartered are the British barque Invercoe and the British steamship Lodorer. The German ship Arnoldus Vinnen has been taken by the Portland Flouring Mills company. The Invercoe is of 1,322 tons net register, and she was chartered at a rate of 31s. 6d. She sailed from Geelong for the west coast of South America May 18. The Lodorer is nearing Australia from New York, and is of 2,053 tons net register.

The fleet of 40 vessels is capable of handling about 6,000,000 bushels of wheat, nearly as great a quantity as was dispatched from Portland to the United Kingdom during the entire season last year. Each week several vessels are added to the list, and the present prospect is that the fleet will be increased to 50 before the first grain of the new crop begins to arrive at tidewater. In the 40 under charter, 14 fly the British flag, 10 the Norwegian, 11 the German, two the French, one the Belgian, one the Russian and one the Dutch. Only two or three years ago the French were in the lead in the point of grain tonnage sent to the Pacific northwest.

ALICE GOING TO SKAGWAY

The C. P. R. steamer Princess Alice, Capt. McLeod, which arrived in port last night from Prince Rupert with the Masonic excursion, will remain here until next Friday night, when she will replace the steamer Princess May in the Alaska service. The Alice will make four trips to the Northland and it is expected that she will carry big crowds on every voyage.

EASTERN FREIGHT AT RUPERT OVER G. T. P.

First Cars Arrived at Northern Terminal Last Thursday; Prince Rupert In

Capt. D. McKenzie, master of the G. T. P. steamer Prince Rupert, reported to the Times to-day that the first through freight from Eastern Canada reached Prince Rupert last Thursday. Included in the initial consignment of freight to run the length of the continent on the new threads of steel was considerable material for the big floating drydock which is being constructed at Prince Rupert by the Grand Trunk Pacific.

It is expected that from now on freight cars will reach Prince Rupert from the east with regularity. The northern terminal also expects to start shipping its fish through to the markets in Ontario and the Middle States in a very short time. Before July has passed it is believed that Prince Rupert will be receiving most of its importations by the new line. There is also a report that the passenger trains will be rolling over the complete rail by July 9, but so far nothing official has been given out.

Rupert Has Good Trip.

Officers of the Prince Rupert report a splendid round-trip to Prince Rupert, Grandby Bay and Stewart. Many passengers were handled during the voyage, 150 going north and 130 coming south.

The Prince Rupert left this morning at 10 o'clock for the north with a fair list of passengers. Capt. John Gibson, president of the G. T. P. Dock Co., and head of the International Stevedoring Company, was among the Seattle passengers on the steamer. Among those who embarked at this port were: T. R. Mullin, J. Wardley Stewart, Mrs. H. Lack, Miss E. G. Howard and A. W. R. Wilby, resident engineer of the marine and fisheries department.

George Leaving Early.

Word was received here this morning that the steamer Prince George, Capt. Donald, sailed from Prince Rupert at 9 a. m., and will arrive here on time Wednesday. The steamer is to be dispatched from Victoria for Seattle an hour and a half ahead of her schedule. She will carry an excursion arranged by the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. The George will sail at 8.30 o'clock, and will reach the Sound city by 1 o'clock. Returning she will leave Seattle at 6 o'clock, and arrive at Victoria at 10.30 o'clock. About 650 Victorians are expected to take in the trip.

MAKURA OFF HEAD AT DAYLIGHT TO-MORROW

Red-Stacker Finishing Trip From Australia; Passenger List

Shortly after daybreak to-morrow morning the Canadian-Australian liner Makura, Capt. Phillips, will let go her anchor off William Head to await inspection. A radiogram was flashed from seaward last night by the master of the steamship in which it was stated that the red-stacker would round Race Rocks at 5 o'clock to-morrow. The Makura is right on time and has made a smart run up the Pacific from Sydney, N. S. W., via Auckland, Suva and Honolulu. The green liner will probably make fast her lines at the outer docks about 6.30 o'clock.

The Makura is reported to be bringing in a large list of passengers, including 193 whom she had on board when leaving Auckland. Additional travelers were picked up at the other ports of call and it is believed that she has well over 275 in the different classes.

The cargo in the Makura's holds consigned to this port is very small, amounting to but 50 tons.

Maru Fails to Report.

Breaking the rule of the Japanese steamships of reporting arrival early, the Panama Maru, Capt. Kanao, of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha, failed to intimate to her agents by wireless last night what time she would make Victoria. The inbound Nippon boats usually report on Saturday nights, but the Panama has remained silent so far. She is due here on Thursday from Hongkong and Yokohama. The Panama has about 60 passengers and 350 tons of cargo for Victoria.

To-morrow afternoon the Osaka liner Tacoma Maru, Capt. Hamada, of the Osaka fleet, clears for the Far East with a full cargo and a small list of passengers.

STRIKE WILL AFFECT ALL TIME CHARTERS

Shipments From Australia Tied Up as Result of Present Situation

San Francisco, June 22.—Word has just been received that the strike at the Australian collieries has stopped all coal shipments and that the situation is serious.

Time chartered vessels will suffer as they cannot afford to lie idle. J. J. Moore & Co., Hind, Rolph & Co., and Davies & Fehon have a number of time chartered vessels scheduled to load for this port and Honolulu, and their departure for this coast without cargo will entail a serious loss.

The British steamer Lord Lonsdale has been chartered by G. W. McNear for barley from this port to the United Kingdom at 33s. She will come across from the Orient in ballast.

It is also reported that the British steamer Loderer, loading at Antwerp for Hololulu, has ben taken on a grain charter but further particulars are not obtainable.

The British barque Invercoe has been taken for Portland grain loading at 31s. 6d., and will some north in ballast from Callao. The German ship Arnoldus Vinnen, reported as chartered for grain, loads barley at this port for the United Kingdom at 29s. 3d., for account of Strauss & Co. She has a northern option but will probably load here. Being a large carrier she naturally receives a comparatively low rate.

INCORRECTLY REPORTED.

New Orleans, La., June 22.—Because of incorrect transmission of the name, it was reported here last night that the schooner J. R. Ellison had sunk in the gulf and that the crew was being brought to New Orleans.

The Ellison foundered June 15. The crew of twelve was picked up by the schooner Helen W. Martin and transferred to the Antilles. The Ellison was loaded with phosphate rock.

NEW LINES' PRESENCE ON PACIFIC IS FELT

Nippon Yusen Kaisha Says This is Reason for Falling Off of Cargoes

According to the semi-annual statement of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, that company has felt the presence of the new lines in the trans-Pacific trade. The report dealing with the six months' period ending March 31 fixes the reason for the light cargoes which its ships have been handling as due to the appearance of the Hamburg-American and Royal Mail liners. Dealing with the service to Victoria and Puget Sound the report says:

"In this service the amount of cargo from Hongkong and Japan for America was small, especially because of the competition of other shipping companies. Under the circumstances, the ships employed in this service had, in certain cases, to carry fuel for homeward runs, and still bottoms remained unfilled. On the homeward run the amount of such staple articles as wheat and flour was also insignificent, and vessels carried mostly raw cotton, salted fish and machinery. Consequently, efforts were fade to secure cargo from Japan to Shanghai and Hongkong—the terminal port of this line. Generally, however, the movement of cargo in this service was far less than in the corresponding term of last year."

Other Trades Pay Well.

The other trades in which the Nippon operates fleets of steamships yielded good returns, especially the European line. The Australian service also turned in fair profits and the Bombay and Calcutta routes did well. During the twenty-ninth half-yearly business term the company employed 85 of its own steamers, comprising 368,000 tons in all, one steamer of 3,700 tons placed in its care, and several chartered vessels in the coasting trade and ocean services, and carried over 2,100,000 tons of cargo and over 129,000 passengers, the distance navigated covering over 1,830,000 nautical miles.

MUSICIAN LOOKED FOR

The Harrison direct liner Musician, Capt. Dunn, which was expected in port at noon to-day from Europe, had not passed in at Cape Flattery up to the time of going to press. She left San Francisco at 5 o'clock on Friday afternoon and with favorable weather off the coast it was expected that she would have been in port before 12 o'clock to-day. The Musician has 450 tons of cargo for this port.

STRATHCLYDE PASSES UP.

The British steamship Strathclyde with a cargo of sugar from Peru for the B. C. Sugar Refinery, called off here this afternoon for a Vancouver pilot. The Strathclyde made a long trip up the coast and had to put into San Francisco to replenish her bunkers.

HIGHLANDERS HOLD FIRST DRESS PARADE

Make Splendid Impression as They March to Service at St. Andrew's Church

ELOQUENT ADDRESS BY REV. DR. CAMPBELL

Tells Men in Uniform That True Foundation of Success is Character

Two hundred and seventy-five strong the Fiftieth Highlanders of Canada held their first full-dress parade yesterday forenoon, marching to service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. With tartans waving in the strong morning breeze and the rising light glinting from shining buckle and sword, they made a splendid spectacle for the throngs which watched from the sidewalks.

Forming up on the grounds of the Central school, the regiment afforded the large crowd which gathered the first opportunity of observing what the new unit looks like in its most festive garb, the busby, the scarlet tunic and the kilt and tartan of the Gordon Highlanders. The event was a magnet for camera-owners, numerous cameras, one or two of which were moving-picture machines, being present in the hands of those who wished to preserve a pictorial record of the first dress parade.

Headed by the pipers, the regiment left the school grounds at 10.30, and marched by way of Yates and Douglas streets to St. Andrew's church. The force was led by Lieut.-Col. Currie, a striking figure in his newest uniform. Between the band and the first company marched the buglers, wearing the white shell in place of the red tunic worn by the others.

Both because of the excellent precision of their movements and the gratifyingly high standard of their physique, the men made an excellent impression on the hundreds who lined the streets to see them go by. Many comments were overheard which indicated clearly that as far as the few public appearances of the regiment have enabled them to judge, Victorians regard the new unit as a full worthy sister regiment of the world-famous Gordon Highlanders, whose plaid the men wear.

Arriving at St. Andrew's church, the men filed in and took their position in the central part of the auditorium. All the other seats in the edifice were occupied by members of the congregation and citizens who attended, and some had to be turned from the doors for lack of space.

The service in St. Andrew's church, the first held for the Highlanders since the formation of the regiment was begun, was an impressive one. The opening organ selection, "Jubilate Deo," (Silver), played by Jesse A. Longfield, was followed by the anthem, "Praise ye the Lord," (Gonoud) and the invocation, pronounced by Rev. Dr. Leslie Clay. Psalm selection 96 followed and then there was the scripture reading by Rev. Dr. Clay. Mrs. Macdonald Fahey sang "Trust ye in the Lord," (Tozer) as a solo and prayer was offered by Dr. Campbell. Hymn 474, "O God Our Help in Ages Past," was sung before the offertory, after which the anthem "Sweet the Moments Rich in Blessing" (Godfrey), was sung, Mrs. J. A. Longfield taking the contralto solo. Prayer was offered by Dr. Clay, and was followed by the singing of hymn 503.

Patriotism and loyalty formed the basis of the eloquent sermon delivered by Rev. Dr. John Campbell, chaplain of the regiment, from the pulpit which was draped with the Union Jack and the ensign of Scotland. Taking as his text, Deuteronomy, 26, 15, "The land which thou hast given us, as thou swearest unto our fathers, a land that floweth with milk and honey," and I Samuel, 10, 24, "And Samuel said to all the people, see ye him whom the Lord hath chosen, that there is none like him among all the people? And all the people shouted, and said, God Save the King," he outlined the requirements of the soldier of Canada and the Empire, emphasizing the fact that the true foundation of success was character of the men. Drawing instances of steadfastness and heroism from the history of the British army, he set before his hearers the splendid standard with which the men of the militia had to judge their actions, and he expressed the conviction that the Fiftieth Highlanders, just setting out on their career, would be found to possess those admirable characteristics which had brought glory to the British flag.

"In Canada we have been given a glorious heritage," said Dr. Campbell, "To all our material advantages we add the great advantage of liberty. It is a land 'flowing with milk and honey.' From Halifax to the Pacific ocean, from the 49th parallel to the frozen north it is a wonderful country. It is larger than the whole of Europe. And there is liberty in it—a liberty which includes one of the greatest liberties, freedom of religious thought. Truly we should defend this country with our lives.

"But there is one thing which is more important to Canada than her forests and lakes, her rivers and plains, and that is the character of her people. God gives man opportunity, but man makes his own character. The only thing, after all, worth having is character. And let your care include the little things, for if the little things of character are guarded, the great things will take care of themselves.

"I would say to you officers and men of the Fiftieth Highlanders: Be mindful of your characters, so that in the end your acts, unsullied and high, may be worthy to take their place along with the greatest and noblest recorded in the annals of the British army."

For a moment the preacher traced the early history of Canada. It had been found after the British had come into possession that the French in Lower Canada turned with true loyalty to the king and empire, a loyalty which had extended down to the present day. Then there were the United Empire Loyalists. Rather than draw the sword against anything British, they had come to make their home in Canada, bringing with them all their Anglo-Saxon traditions and their unswerving loyalty to the flag.

"The splendid character of the people of Canada to-day from ocean to ocean," he said, "is largely due to the French settlers in Lower Canada, now Quebec, and the British settlers in Upper Canada, now Ontario."

Following the sons of Canada abroad into the wider fields of empire, he spoke for a moment of the battles in which they had fought side by side with their brothers from England and Scotland and Ireland. They had fought —how well they had fought the world knew. A thrill was felt by Canadians when they saw the uniform and recalled the heroism of fellow-Canadians in the far battles of empire. But there were other feelings also—the feelings which mourning fathers and mothers, sisters and brothers experienced when they thought of the lonely graves in distant lands. Those who had fallen and those who had returned to their native land, the former to a supreme degree and the latter to a no less admirable degree, had been permitted to answer the call of duty. Yes, there was a duty, and it must be and would be answered.

The value of national preparedness was dwelt on by the preacher.

"One lesson to be learned from the pages of history is that peace comes by power," he said. "I do not know a nation that would keep inviolate an international treaty, that would not pare the edges and seek the thin spots, were it not for the power behind the other party to the treaty. Peace is a very desirable thing, but we all know this to be a fact, that it is only the nation that is prepared for war that may enjoy peace."

To accomplish the time when men would no longer go forth to war, Dr. Campbell pointed out, it was the duty of every man to carry forth the gospel and lay it before all humanity.

In conclusion, he called on the officers and men of the Fiftieth Highlanders to bear ever in mind the glorious heritable that belonged to British peoples, and also not to overlook the great share the men of Scotland had borne in the advance of the empire's welfare. In all things, he felt convinced, the men would measure fully up to the standard with which the people of Canada measured their soldiers.

The sermon was followed by the singing of hymn 508 and the benediction, pronounced by Dr. Campbell, after which the congregation departed to the strains of Mitchell's "Grand Choeur in B Flat," as played by the organist.

Filing out of the church, the regiment marched to the grounds of the Parliament buildings, where a group photograph was taken. This picture will soon make its appearance in a little book which Industrial Commissioner Cuthbert is preparing for the advertisement of Victoria and its advantages.

From the Parliament buildings, the Highlanders then proceeded back to the Central school grounds by way of Government and Yates streets, where the men were dismissed. Crowds again watched the new regiment on its return parade.

Home Treatment for Sallow, Wrinkled Skin

A. C. F. asks: "What should I do for my sallow complexion, and how can I get rid of my wrinkles?"

Sallowness is best removed by removing the skin itself. This is effectually accomplished by the use of ordinary mercolized wax, which causes the offensive outer skin gradually to peel off, in fine particles scarcely noticeable to the naked eye. Within a week or so you will have an enviable complexion, the new skin exhibiting a healthful, youthful tint incomparable with artificial coloring. Get an ounce of this wax at your drug store, apply at night like cold cream, only don't rub it in. Wash it off in the morning with warm water.

For your wrinkles try a solution of powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in ½ pint witch hazel. Bathe your face in this every morning for a while. The result will surprise you.—Beauty's Mirror.

Largest Dental Company in Canada

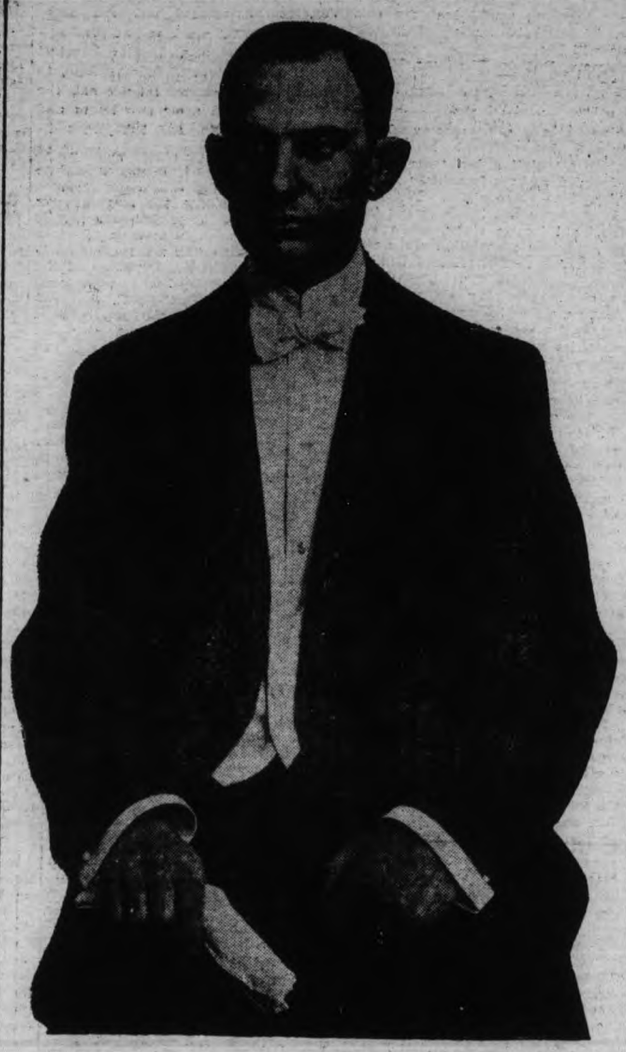

To Open in the Specially Prepared Quarters in the Palace Building, Corner of Government and Yates Streets

Dr. O. C. GILBERT, the Well-Known Specialist, in Charge

Among all the professions, none has made quite such rapid strides as dentistry. Thirty-five years ago it was the barber who extracted the aching molar and applied the leach to the swollen gums—thus the red stripe handed down to the present barber pole. But to-day dentistry has advanced so far that one man does not feel competent to cope with all its branches and, like its sister profession, medicine, dentists are specializing in whatever branch of the work they are especially suited for.

Dr. Gilbert needs no special introduction to Victoria as, without a doubt, he is the best known dentist in the Northwest. For some time Dr. Gilbert has had the distinction of operating the largest dental office in Canada, occupying the second floor of the Dominion Bldg., in Vancouver, and it is from the numerous requests of his patients and friends from Victoria and Vancouver Island that he has been induced to extend his already large practice to Victoria. The Doctor is also President of the New York Syndicate of Dental Surgeons, with offices in Seattle, Everett and Bellingham. In every office the Gilbert System of Painless Dentistry is used and a written guarantee issued on each and every piece of work, honored and protected in every office.

Dr. Gilbert is a graduate of a college reputed to be the best and most progressive of all dental schools—the Northwestern University Dental College of Chicago—and holds many degrees as well as licenses to practice in British Columbia, Washington and California. Ever since leaving college Dr. Gilbert has devoted his time to the upbuilding of the dental profession, to the advancement of painless methods and to placing advanced dentistry within the reach of all. Nature intended that the teeth should play an important part in the stimulation of the body as well as its appearance, for without mastication there can be little digestion and without digestion there can be no assimilation, and without assimilation there can be no strength, no will power, or no endurance to the body.

DR. O. C. GILBERT

The two main reasons that have kept people away from the dentists is the dread of the pain and the cost of the operations. Dr. Gilbert has solved both problems. First by the use of a harmless botanical formula simply applied at the root of the tooth he anaesthetizes the tooth itself so there is not the slightest sense of pain or feeling, every other part of the body remaining normal. While the tooth is thus numbed every particle of decay is removed, the cavity prepared and the filling placed. All this is accomplished without the slightest pang or injurious results to the tooth. Second, by conducting his practice along correct business principles, by using nothing but the best of dental supplies purchased direct from the manufacturers in such large quantities and for the lowest cash prices, by equipping his office with the latest improved labor and time-saving devices he is prepared to give you the best there is in dentistry at a price far lower than you have ever paid before—a price high enough to insure dental services to please the most exacting but low enough to be within the means of the most humble.

Time is also a great factor. Many people neglect their teeth because they cannot make appointments with a dentist that do not conflict with their work, but this new office will overcome this objection by remaining open every day until six p. m., Saturday evening's until nine, and special appointments as you may desire. So completely equipped in every essential is this office that anything in the dental line can be made or repaired entirely in the shortest space of time consistent with good work.

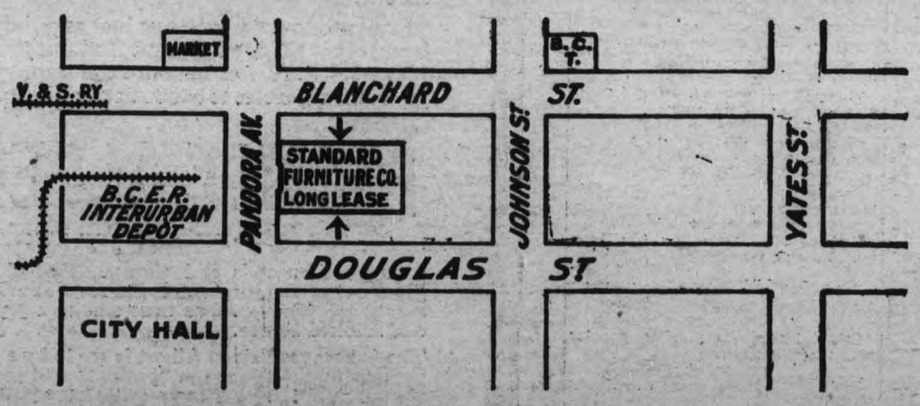

Wednesday, June 24th, is the day set for the opening. We invite you one and all to call and inspect these new and elegantly appointed dental parlors and we will then demonstrate the many fine qualities of the equipment and show you a dental parlor that all Victoria will be proud of.

SPORTING NEWS

WILL NOT SUPPORT SCHEDULE DIVISION THIRD MAJOR LEAGUE IS NOW FORMED

Owner Kingham Gives Views on Tacoma Rumor; Ty Cobb in Jail for Assaulting Tradesman; New Turn of Events in Federal "War"

"While it would be better for my club to have the league directors declare the schedule ended and start over again, I cannot see where the league would benefit in general," was the statement of Owner Kingham, of the Victoria Baseball club, to-day, when discussing the Tacoma rumor that the northwestern schedule would be divided so as to give the second division teams a chance to pull up in the race. Mr. Kingham believes that the proposed division of the schedule would lessen the faith that the fans have in the league race. He is confident that his club can get out of the second division without the assistance of the Northwestern league directors, and only wants his share of the luck to fight his way to the top.

Baseball has taken a new hold in the capital. The club's remarkable playing against Vancouver drew out the second largest crowd of the year Saturday afternoon, nearly 4,000 witnessing the third successive win of the Bees over the Terminal athletes.

Not content with breaking a rib recently, Ty Cobb celebrated his return to the batting leadership in the American league on Saturday by getting into a clash with an overcautious butcher. Cobb was arrested, and while bailed out, will have to give up baseball for a week or so as he broke a thumb in the melee. These outbursts upon the part of the high-strung Georgian are proving costly to the Tigers.

The Cincinnati club has sold Pitcher Ingersoll to the Columbus American Association club. Philadelphia has sold Pitcher Taylor to the same club. The Phillies got the latter from Utica of the New York State league, while Ingersoll went from Vancouver.

Red Smith, third baseman of the Superbas, is credited with rapping out 14 fouls in a row on June 9, off the delivery of Zabel of the Chicago Cubs.

It is now said that a third major league, sanctioned by the National Baseball commission, will be started immediately. The International and American Associations are to be combined, the four best clubs of each league going into the new major organization. The plan proposed by Ed. Barrow to lift the draft rule from the Class A A leagues has been rejected, as it was felt that all of the leagues of this standing would look for this favor. The probable line-up of the new league will be:

Baltimore, Buffalo, Pittsburg, Washington, Cleveland, Detroit, Cincinnati, and Louisville. Four of these cities, Detroit, Cincinnati, Pittsburg, and Washington, are not represented in either the International league or American association, but according to well-founded reports franchises will be transferred to these cities. Pittsburg and Washington are likely to get two International league clubs, while two of the American association clubs will be transferred to Detroit and Cincinnati.

The eight remaining clubs of the two leagues are to be amalgamated into a class AA minor league.

Two cities which are likely to lose franchises are Kansas City in the American association and Toronto in the International league.

☆ ☆ ☆

San Francisco, June 22.—That the Pacific Coast league will demand major rating in case a new major league is carved out of the International league and American association was the declaration of J. Cal Ewing of the San Francisco club. When peace was made between the Coast league and organized baseball in 1903 it was agreed that no minor league should ever have higher rating than the Coast league.

☆ ☆ ☆

Chicago, June 22.—President Charles Weeghman of the Chicago Federals declares that a fourth major league, if formed by Ban Johnson, will have no effect on the Federals.

Pete Schneider got into his first big league game Saturday in New York City, relieving Phil Douglass. Cincinnati lost 7-2, but Cincinnati outhit the Giants 8 to 5. Four errors were made by Cincinnati.

TAKE HONORS OF DAY IN FINAL MOMENTS

Victoria Wins From Cowichan; Batsmen Had Merry Time With Bowling

For a second Saturday in succession followers of cricket here has an opportunity of seeing a close finish when Victoria entertained and won from Cowichan at the week end at the Jubilee hospital grounds. Having knocked up 261 for the loss of four wickets, to which Orr contributed 111 not out, the visitors declared after two hours and a quarter's batting and left just sufficient time for the Victoria men to knock off the runs by vigorous hitting. This they achieved with a few minutes to spare, sustaining the loss of six wickets. That the wicket was fast is shown by the heavy scoring. In fact each good drive was a certain boundary owing to the configuration of the field. Almost every local man was given a chance with the ball, as it was realized that Orr must be separated if possible from his partners. Orr hit freely, his century including eighteen fours.

The victory of the home eleven was principally due to two fine partnerships, that of Alexis Martin and J. W. D. York, and that of L. York and Grant. All of them gave chances which were not made use of by the visitors, who relied almost exclusively in their attack on Bagnall and Brook-Smith, having apparently a shortage of trundlers. The issue was in doubt till the 200 went up in the latter partnership. However, they carried the score to 248 before Hilton bowled Grant.

The home team showed a determination for straightforward leg-hitting, and most of the boundaries came from such clean-cut movements. It is safe to say that over 500 runs would not have been secured in five hours' play if there had not been some misjudgment in placing the bowlers where their special characteristics would do most good. Also it was distinctly a batsman's wicket. The bowlers were disturbed in their length by the wind, which blew strongly throughout the match. Altogether it was a capital match, restoring to Victoria the supremacy among senior teams.

The scores follow:

GERARD WILL FACE PROFESSIONAL CHARGE

To consider the charges of professionalism against Albert Gerard, a meeting of the Victoria branch of the B. C. A. A. U. will be held on Wednesday night at the V. A. A. A. Gerard is booked to compete at the Oak Bay sports on July 1, but if the charges are proven he will be backlisted from further competition in amateur ranks. Billy Davies, who laid the charges, says he expects that Gerard will be declared a professional.

New York, June 22.—The advance guard of the American athletes who are to compete in England for the British amateur championships next month sailed Saturday on the steamer New York. The departing athletes were Harry Smith, the American two-mile champion, and Homer Baker, of the New York A. C. Smith will compete in the four-mile run and Baker will be a starter in the half-mile.

M'HALE TO REFEREE BATTLE AT DUNCAN

According to a letter received from Cyclone Scott at Duncan, the promoters of the Scott-Barrieau fight on June 27 have agreed upon Barney McHale, of Victoria, as referee. Scott is now in training at Duncan, while Barrieau will arrive there on Wednesday. A number of Victoria sportsmen will witness the bout.

Joe Bayley, Victoria's lightweight champion, returned home on Saturday from the south. He states that he is feeling in the best of health and, barring an injured thumb, is O.K. He will be at the ringside at Brighouse arena on Dominion day to challenge the winner of the O'Leary-Vaise battle for the Canadian lightweight championship.

T. DARKE NEVER JOINED OAK BAY

To the Sporting Editor:

Dear Sir,—I notice a statement in your paper of Friday's issue that T. Drake, of the Oak Bay club, is disqualified from playing in further league matches, during the season of 1914. From information received (not official) I learned that this refers to me. Now, sir, I would like to know by what laws the said league committee arrogate unto themselves the right to prevent anyone from playing in the league, without summoning the delinquent before them and giving him a chance to refute or admit the charge laid against his name. No reason is given for this drastic action, which I think, sir, you will agree, in fairness to me, should be forthcoming.

In conclusion I may say that I have never been a member of the Oak Bay C. C., neither have I ever asked any friends to propose and second me for the said club. If the Oak Bay C. C. minute book shows my election (which I very much doubt) then I can only reiterate that this election took place without my permission.

Yours truly,
T. A. DARKE.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

Fighting Spirit Is Winning the Ball Games.

There is nothing like an aggressive spirit to make a ball team. Muggsy McGraw insists upon his athletes fighting every inch of the way, and he has repeatedly let go really good baseball players because they did not stand up under punishment. Manager Bert Delmas has gathered together a lot of youngsters who showed their fighting spirit by tackling the fast-stepping league-leaders and not only winning the series from them, but taking a number of games in a row after Vancouver had secured the edge. Victoria won at least two of those games by pure plugging, the scoring ability of the team being something remarkable. Forty-nine runs have the Bees put together in six games, or rather in five games, because one of the contests was a shut-out. The peppery playing of the locals took a lot of the confidence out of the Vancouver squad and once the Victoria men had Brown's team on the run there was no stopping them.

Stars to Compete for U. S. Titles.

Interest in international tennis play will not cease with the Davis cup matches, for the members of the English, Australasian and German teams, if the latter come to America at all, will all play in the national championship tournament at Newport during the week of August 24-29. With Brooks, Wilding, Doust, Dunlop, Parks, Lowe, Barrett, Dixon and other foreign stars competing in the singles against McLoughlin, Williams, Wallace Johnson, Touchard, William Johnston, Clothier, Pell and other leading United States players who will enter at Newport, the national championship tournament is certain to attract a record assembly to the Casino courts.

Oh, you old jimmy pipe!

"Lead me to it" say millions of men since they've found out that Prince Albert tobacco can't bite the tongue and can't parch the throat.

"Lead me to it" you'll say just as quick as you invest in a tidy red tin and find out first-hand just why P. A. has become the largest selling pipe and cigarette tobacco in the United States.

PRINCE ALBERT

the inter-national joy smoke

brought thousands and thousands of old jimmy pipes out of the garrets. It has revolutionized pipe smoking! Today three men smoke a pipe where one smoked before.

That's because Prince Albert is made by a patented process that cuts out the "grouch" and just lets in the sunshine! Never in your life have you hit such flavor and fragrance and freshness!

Play P. A. in a jimmy pipe or roll up the corkingest makin's cigarette you ever put fire to. It's all one and the same thing—just good for what ails your smokappetite! And it rolls up so dead easy. Being mighty fresh, it just stays put and doesn't blow away or run away like the dust-brands.

And, you know, today's the day!

Prince Albert is the largest seller in the United States. It is now being imported into Canada by wholesale dealers and is sold by all of the leading retail dealers. In one-eighth-lb. red tins.

THREE CHANGES ON LOCAL TWELVE
VICTORIA OFFICIALS FOR CUP GAMES

Westminsters Defeat V. A. C. 6 to 2; Nationals and Tecumsehs Win in Big Four; Lacrosse News

President Hall, of the Victoria amateur lacrosse club, stated this morning that there will be at least three changes in the team that will be sent over to New Westminster on July 1. A meeting of the club's executive will be held on Thursday night at the medical health officer's office, on Pandora avenue, when the team will be definitely selected. Victoria must win this match if the locals are to take a brace in the Mann cup race and the officials will endeavor to put their strongest team upon the field.

Lester Patrick received a wire from Joe Lally this morning, asking him to go over to Vancouver on Thursday to confer with the managers of the Brampton and V. A. C. lacrosse teams with regard to Saturday's game for the Mann cup. It is likely that a second Victoria official will be chosen, but Referee Patrick wishes to discuss the matter with the two clubs before making his selection. The Brampton team will arrive at Vancouver to-morrow.

Nationals defeated Quebec 15 to 7 at Quebec on Saturday and now have a clear lead in the Big Four. Tecumsehs won from Toronto 10 to 9 in ten minutes overtime, the game being played before a crowd of 4,500 fans. The Big Four winners will probably play off with the champions of the National Lacrosse union and the winner of this series will come west in search of the Minto cup.

Westminster once more took the lead in the B. C. L. A. on Saturday by winning from the V. A. C. 6 to 2, at the Terminal City. The Royals handled themselves in their former style and the Vancouver twelve could not hold the Salmon Bellies. V. A. C. started off well and scored their two goals in the opening period. Westminster had things pretty much their own way for the balance of the game. The teams meet again at Vancouver on Dominion Day. This is the third win that Westminster has chalked up at Vancouver.

Nationals hammered down another peg in the junior city lacrosse title by defeating the Wests at Beacon Hill, 9 to 6. The winners meet the Young Canadians in a match next Saturday that will decide the winner of the junior championship. Wests started off fast in Saturday's game, scoring four goals in the first period, during which they held Nationals scoreless. The winners finished in brilliant style. Dr. G. A. B. Hall handled the game, only one penalty being handed out.

BRENTWOOD TROPHY WAS WON BY SHEILA

J. Stewart Captures First Race for Handsome Cup; Other Yachting Results

There must be something lucky attached to the name "Sheila." In the first race for the fine new Brentwood cup, held on Saturday under the auspices of the Royal Victoria Yacht club, the first and second places in the handicap event were captured by craft bearing that name. J. Stewart's Sheila finished two and a half minutes ahead of the Sheila owned by Mr. Schwabe. The Adrienne, owned by Mr. Anstie, was seven minutes behind the second boat. Squally weather handicapped the lighter boats considerably, and while there were several cases of engine trouble, the majority of the craft finished the full course in good time.

Mr. Stewart's boat covered the course in the excellent time of 4.23.30. He will receive a small replica of the Brentwood cup, it being necessary to win the big trophy three times to become the permanent owner. The order and times of finishing of the first fifteen were: Mr. Stewart's Sheila, 4.41½; Mr. Schwabe's Sheila, 4.45; Mr. Anstie's Adrienne, 4.52; Mr. Alford's Diana, 4.58; Mr. Cornwall's Nenoni, 4.58.10; Mr. Burton's Chickadee, 4.58.20; Mr. Lane's Soakum, 4.58.40; Mr. Rochfort's "OO," 5; Mr. Payne's Bubbles, 5.02.10; Mr. Musgrave's Nahleen, 5.04.15; Mr. Hume's Hulda, 5.07; Mr. Hayes' Ulster, 5.10; Mr. Ketchern's "D.M.K.," 5.12; Mr. Christie's Gaviota, 5.12.02; Mr. Malet's Venture, 5.15.10; Dr. Nelson's Bluebird, 5.16.30; Mr. Kent's Trio, 5.23; Mr. Irving's Kelpie, 5.26.

A very enjoyable dance was held in the evening, numerous motor parties from the city adding to the yachtsmen and their friends.

Saturday's dinghy race at Cadboro Bay was won for the second time by Mr. Hotham, who captured the series. The race was started at 3.35 o'clock. The times of finishing were: First round—Mr. Hotham, 3.57.40; Mr. Crease, 4; Mr. Drake, 4.01.35; Mr. Hincks gave up at the end of the first round. Final round—Mr. Hotham, 4.22.35; Mr. Crease, 4.24.30; Mr. Drake, 4.30.10.

At the International Geneva association's regatta the winning oarsmen, Hartley, Middleton and Goulden, of the Empress hotel, were presented with silver cups donated by the Phoenix Brewing company and Pither & Leiser, and the second crew received handsome souvenirs. R. P. Rithet & Co. have put up a handsome trophy to be competed for by teams from all the local hotels. This trophy is on exhibition at the West End Grocery.

FRENCHMAN WINNER.

London, June 22.—The annual marathon race from Windsor Castle to Chelsea football grounds for a trophy valued at $2,500 was won Saturday by Djebelia, a Frenchman. His time was 2 hours, 40 minutes and 50 4-5 seconds. Forty-three competitors started. They were sent away by King George. Queen Mary and other members of the royal family were present.

SCANLON TURNED IN WINNING RUNS

Nye Operated Hidden Ball Trick on McCarl; Victoria Out of the Cellar

Victoria stepped into fifth place in the Northwestern league standing at Seattle yesterday when it took another fall out of the Vancouver club, while Seattle beat Tacoma.

The Bees counted their fourth straight win at the expense of the league leaders. Tom Scanlon's bat was responsible for the majority of Victoria's five tallies, the best that the Beavers could do being four counters. Slim Smith started off well and after being given a five-run lead, proceeded to fill the bases with Brown's hired help. With only one down, the bases full and one run across, Bobby Steele took up the hurling and effectively put a stop to the cannonade which the Beavers had directed upon Smith.

Marty Nye broke into the limelight by pulling the old and faded hidden-ball trick on McCarl in the seventh. As Vancouver's chances loomed bright at this stage of the proceedings, Bob Brown gave the former Spokane first-sacker a real call-down. Dutch Reuther took the mound againts the locals and while he held Victoria to seven hits, he could not tighten up in the pinches. Vancouver hit out eleven safeties, snappy fielding keeping the Beavers' score down.

Owner Kingham returned to the capital this morning, delighted with his team's showing against the Beavers. Since he took over the club the team has won fifteen battles, lost fifteen and drawn one. An average of .500 for about five weeks' work. As Mr. Kinghim was unable to start strengthening his team until two weeks after the time he took over the club, the team has made a remarkable showing, winning nine and losing five in the past two weeks. The players left for Spokane last night. Mr. Kingham stated that he would not make any changes in the club now, as he was satisfied that he had as good a team as there was in the league.

Pat Moran's sensational jumping clutch of Sharnweber's high fly to the right-field fence featured Saturday's game here when the Bees clinched the series against the Beavers. Moran had a good hitting day. He also won a two-dollar bill as a prize that Senator Riley offered to the first Victoria runner to cross the plate in Saturday's game. Tom Scanlon was another who broke into the limelight with a triple and a single after Lamb had taken the count with a split finger. Scanlon's activities mean that he will probably remain in the game for a few days. Delmas' hitting and the splendid baserunning of the Bees proved too much for the mainland aggregation. Ben Hunt also had difficulty in locating the plate. His support was poor, Pinky Grindle having no less than four passed balls.

BATTING AVERAGES

Victoria is gradually showing improvement in its hitting. Calvo and Wilhoit are now hitting over the .300 mark, while Driscoll is banging away at a .275 clip. The other members of the team are climbing, and the addition of Scanlon to the infield will add to its hitting strength.

Vancouver and Seattle are tied for first place in team batting and for second place in team fielding. The Indians are the best in team fielding and third in team batting. In the department of run getting, base stealing and extra base hitting, Spokane is the leading team. Vancouver leads in sacrifice hits, Seattle in double plays.

VICTORIA GOLFERS
TO ENTER TOURNEY

Ladies' International Match Was Contested to a Draw at Seattle on Saturday

Victorians will take great interest in this week's golf at Seattle when the fourteenth annual championships of the Pacific Northwest Golf association will be held at the links of the Seattle Golf club. Victoria and Vancouver will send over several score of the best golfers in British Columbia, the Victoria representation including A. V. Macan, the present holder of the O. N. G. A. championship. The entry of a number of California golfers this year adds zest to the tourney, while no less a golfer than H. Chandler Egan, of Portland, former national champion, will compete for the northwest title.

Offering a suggestion of what the uncertainties of the outcome at this week's struggle is going to be, there was entered early the name of K. G. DeJough, of Vancouver island, who enters from the Royal Eastbourne Golf club, England, a club where he is listed at plus 2.

It is up to A. V. Macan to defend his title and there are many who think that this brilliant Irish player, registered from the Victoria club—and who is also secretary of the Pacific Northwest Golf association—is going to duplicate his win at Butte last year. However, he is going to have a grand fight on his hands.

The names of H. Chandler Egan, former national champion and many times western champion; of Jack Neville and Harry K. Davis, of Dixie Fleager and many others, come to mind as competitors who will give Champion Macan the run of his life.

Weeks ago, Victoria and Vancouver, assured entries of about fifty golfers each. Portland has already sent Jordan Zan, Ned Ayer and R. C. F. Astbury. Tacoma, with a large entry list among the women's class, will have a big party of men golfers over towards the latter end of the week. Everett will have more than a score on hand. Spokane is sending a special railway coach with eighteen assured. Butte has seven entered, with more probably on the way. From Bitter Root, the baby member of the association, six entrants came.

With each team winning nine matches and tying two, the fourth of the series of international matches for the H. C. Henry trophy, between women players of Victoria and Vancouver and a United States team composed of ten players each from Seattle and Tacoma, went to a dead heat at the links of the Seattle Golf club Saturday. The United States team has now won two and tied one match to the Canadians' single victory and Saturday's tie. This will mean a fifth match at Victoria in the fall.

At a luncheon in her beautiful New York residence, a journalist said to Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, "I'm glad you entertained Mrs. Pankhurst while she was here. Mrs. Pankhurst is, saving your presence, the most eloquent woman speaker I've ever heard." "And yet," said Mrs. Belmont, smiling, "she never finishes her sentences, does she?"

Edmund James Flynn, K.C., Quebec, has been appointed a puisne judge of the superior court of Quebec, for the judicial districts of Montmagny and Beauce, in the place of Mr. Justice Cimon, who has resigned. The new judge has been a member of the Quebec bar for forty-one years, and professor of Roman law in Laval university for a year less. He is best known outside the province as having been premier for one short year in 1896-7, and for his forlorn leadership of the Conservative opposition from that time until he retired from politics in 1904. His career in the legislature was a rather chequered one, extending over a quarter of a century. He was commissioner of crown lands for three years under the late Sir Adolph Chapleau, later on held the same portfolio in the deBoucherville and Taillon governments, and between had a term as solicitor-general for the province for three years under the late Dr. Ross. Hon. Marie Honorius Ernest Cimon was on the bench for just a month less than thirty-two years. Between 1874 and 1882 he had a seat in the House of Commons. He is a son-in-law of the late Sir Hector Langevin.

The Progressive Thought Temple, corner of Pandora and Blanshard avenues, was the scene on Saturday last of the first wedding which has taken place with Progressive Thought rites in the city, when Gladys Johnston and John W. Hamilton were united in marriage. The interior of the temple was transformed with flowers, palms, bouquets of roses, carnations, sweet peas and other summer blooms being massed about the hall in most effective manner. The bridal party stood beneath an arch of smilax and white satin streamers, the bride, who was given away by her brother, C. M. Johnston, entering the temple to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, and looking very well in a smart suit of blue cloth with white picture hat. She was attended by Miss Carrie Powers, as maid of honor, and little Mildred Johnston as flower girl. R. A. Hamilton acted as best man, and Dr. T. W. Butler officiated. Later the happy pair embarked for Vancouver, being accompanied to the wharf by a number of their friends.

☆ ☆ ☆

Simple but very pretty was the wedding which took place to-day at 2.30 at St. Mary's church, Oak Bay, when Winnifred Goodall, youngest daughter of Berry Francis Berry and Mrs. Berry, of Hampstead, London, Eng., and Walter Evedyn Plummer, son of Arthur Plummer, of Lewes, Sussex, Eng., were joined in marriage, Rev. W. T. Keeling, lecturer of St. Mark's Hall, Vancouver, and temporary incumbent of St. Mary's, performing the rite. The bride, who was given away by her brother-in-law, J. Rutherford Blaikie, looked very girlish and pretty in a frock of white embroidered muslin, with pale mauve hat trimmed with rosebuds, and a corsage bouquet of white carnations. H. G. Pocock, the organist, played the Mendelssohn Wedding March. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Archdeacon and Mrs. Scriven, Wilmot Place, where a number of the friends of the young couple extended their felicitations and good wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Plummer will make their home in Victoria.

GREEN ROOM NOTES

VAUDEVILLE AT EMPRESS.

Through all the variety of the programme, from the comedy and singing act of Frank and Lillian Burbank to the equilibrist offering of Toki Murati, the bill for the first half of the week at the Empress theatre will be entertaining. The numbers were chosen with the purpose of providing as complete an evening's entertainment as possible and the result is attractive.

The Burbanks bring something new in the line of a humorous and singing act. It is said to have "six feet of music and five feet of voice"—in other words, Frank and Lillian. With an excellent vehicle as foundation, they devote their efforts singly to putting as much bright diversion as possible into the time at their disposal.

Toki Murati is an equilibrist from Japan. The nature of his offering leaves ample room for the display of the extraordinary skill he has achieved. Kelly and Fern dance and sing and include several new features.

Equally at home in classical and popular compositions, the Royal Hungarian String Quartette render a varied range of selections with pleasing interpretation ably supported by finished execution.

The four reels of pictures are of the latest.

"THE WOMAN."

In "The Woman," the play with which the Allen Players this evening open their engagement at the Royal Victoria theatre, Verna Felton will add another to the long list of characters in which she has appeared here, when she will be seen as little Wanda Kelly, telephone operator.

As seen in the first act she is the quick-witted and self-possessed telephone girl to perfection, giving a decidedly interesting demonstration of just what constitutes a telephone operator's work. In the second act she is the strong, true-hearted, capable woman, thorough mistress of the situation as she plays her cards to aid another woman in distress. At the climax of the play, when the telephone girl, at bay among her inquisitors, is ruthlessly given the alternative of betraying the woman she has set out to aid or of going to jail, she has a fine opportunity for the display of her masterly command of emotional intensity and dramatic force. The close of the story is given a whimsical turn of humor that is as unexpected as it is welcome.

The play starts out with such unaffected and natural simplicity that its effect is overwhelming when its final greatness is realized at the fall of the curtain.

"The Count" has been received by every court of Europe, favored by the most prominent financiers, merchants and society people of America.

Time was when some merchants vied with each other in extravagance of statement in their ads. The wise merchants of to-day vie with each other in the ACCURACY of their statements about goods and values. Nowadays deliberate misrepresentation in advertising would surely and quickly kill any store indulging in it.

Mr. Cyril Maude relates a very good story in connection with his recent visit to America. Before his departure from New York for England he was banquetted by the members of the Lotus club. During the evening a well-known journalist was called upon to speak, and he explained that he first met Mr. Cyril Maude in England. "I shall never forget that first meeting," said he, "for Mr. Maude took me to the Garrick club and gave me a dinner fit for the gods, and champagne—ah! that champagne—which was so good that I drank it as if it were water. Then my host took me to his theatre, and finished up things in grand style by giving me the royal box. It was then I decided that the most convenient way to watch the performance was while lying on the floor. At last, however, I got into a kneeling position and while clutching the front of the box with both hands saw something which proved Mr. Cyril Maude to be the finest actor in the world. He was the first actor I had ever seen perform on a revolving stage."

Nervous Lady—"Now, be careful how you drive, cabby, and go slowly over the stones, for I hate to be shaken about. And mind you pull up at the right house, and look out for those dreadful steam-rollers." Cabby—"Never fear, mum, I'll do my best. And which hospital would you wish to be taken to, mum, in case of an accident?"

A scholastic journal gives this story as "strictly true." A class had studied the first chapter of Acts concerning the election of a new apostle. "And how was Matthias chosen?" asked the instructor. "They all jumped on him and kicked him," replied the bright boy of the class. "Whatever put that idea into your head?" inquired the teacher. "Well, sir, you told us. You said to us that 'the lot fell on Matthias'!"

BAGGOT AND GRAHAM WHITE, AVIATOR, IN EUROPEAN PLAY

"Across the Atlantic" at Romano Theatre To-day and To-morrow

"Across the Atlantic" is one of the series of photoplays that was produced by Director Herbert Brenon's Imp company, on its tour of Europe a short time past. With the popular star, King Baggot, in the lead role, it was staged in England, and shows marked signs of enterprise on the director's and company's part. For instance, they were the first to take scenes in London of the principal streets and important places, such as Buckingham palace, Westminster abbey, the Strand, St. Paul's cathedral and Fleet street. And the company, not satisfied with simply the settings they had secured special privilege to take and a flying machine—a necessary adjunct—went out and secured the world famed aviators, Claude Graham White and Gustav Hammel, to appear in roles and use their own machines. Mr. Graham White, especially, is seen in one of the lead roles, as a result of the Universal's willingness to pay the price.

In fact money was of little consideration in the production of this film. The company went out with the determination to secure a truly sensational, unusual film. And they have done it. In releasing it, the Universal feels that it is offering its patrons something in the way of a treat—a picture that one sees but rarely. There is a gripping dramatic story—there are the splendid educational virtues from a travelogue standpoint, and the "punch" is there in the way of sensational developments and incidents.

Following is a brief synopsis of the story:

Wilbur Norton has perfected a new aeroplane invention. An Oriental spy is charged by his government to get these plans. He endeavors to negotiate with Wilbur, but is repulsed. An English friend of Wilbur's arrives from England with the news that the invention has been accepted. Wilbur, who is an Englishman himself, and his friend go out to celebrate. Wilbur becomes intoxicated. His friend takes the papers for safe keeping.

The pair start home. The spy, who has followed them, stabs the friend to death as Wilbur falls on the sidewalk in a drunken stupor. This is all observed by an old tramp who flees in terror.

The next morning Wilbur awakes to find the knife in the dead body of his friend. He imagines he has killed him. He escapes and goes to London, where he buries himself in the slums, and makes a living by selling papers. His wife, an American girl, he has left behind. The murdered man's fortune has been willed to her and her child. She leaves for England, determined to run down the spy and clear the name of her husband.

She arrives and meets the Oriental spy. While on the way to the Derby, Wilbur, who is now working with a Punch and Judy show, observes his wife pass in her car. He tries to follow, but loses her in the crowd. The wife again meets the spy at the races and succeeds, during the excitement of the race, in securing the papers. Wilbur has found his way to the races and he confronts the spy there. The spy departs hurriedly, followed by Wilbur. The spy tries to escape in Graham White's aeroplane with the latter, who does not know of his guilt. Wilbur pursues and sees them land after a brief flight. He chases the now panic-stricken foreigner through a village street, into a house and onto the roof. The spy misses his footing and falls; he is killed.

Wilbur finally locates his wife and the series of exciting events come to an end.

SWIMMING TEST HELD.

The Y. M. C. A. swimming classes, which, in the course of the past three weeks have given swimming instruction to 293 boys in the city, concluded on Saturday last. A large proportion of the lads have learned to swim, and during the week 70 of the pupils took a test, 41 swimming 20 feet, 19 forty feet and the remainder the entire length of the bath, 60 feet.

The other activities of the association are keeping pace with the swimming. The arrangements for the house-boat excursion to take place on July 20 to August 1 are made, and the party will leave Victoria on an old sealing schooner, which will be towed round to Maple Bay, which will be made the base for expeditions by land and water. Athletic practices are being carried on almost daily at the Oak Bay track, and this evening and Wednesday and Friday evenings of this week will be devoted to practice for the Dominion Day sports. Great preparations are being made for the Mount Arrowsmith climb on July 1. The party from Victoria will be joined at Cameron lake by a party of Vancouver Y. M. C. A. members, and the climb will be made on the last day of June so that participants may spend Dominion Day recruiting at Cameron lake.

FIFTH REGIMENT HAS ANNUAL CONTESTS

Sports Are Largely Attended at Camp Grounds; List of Winners

A capital day's entertainment was provided at the Fifth Regiment sports held at Macaulay plains on Saturday afternoon. The visitors were numerous and took a keen interest in the displays. The only drawback was a piercing wind, which affected results in some of the competitions, notably the tent pegging. No. 1 company took most of the honors, and after a stiff contest carried off the tug-of-war from No. 3 company.

The humorous items, such as the potato race and the thread-the-needle race in which lady friends assisted their escorts, aroused a great deal of amusement among the visitors.

At the conclusion of the sports Mrs. Winsby presented the prizes as Lieut.-Col. Winsby called the names. The colonel thanked the visitors for attending, and congratulated the regiment on being able to conduct the sports under such satisfactory conditions.

The list of officials and results follow:

A THANKFUL GRANDMA.

To the Editor: I am sure a vote of thanks is due to your correspondent "Groucher," as there is now a notice posted in Standacona park prohibiting games there. This will indeed be a boon to us females and children, who require some harbor of refuge to escape from the many dangers of the public roads.

Sweet Park of Stad'cona,
Now calm can we rest,
In thy bosom of shade
With the friends we love best.

I take this opportunity of humbly suggesting to whoever it may concern that plain seats in many places throughout the suburbs would be heartily welcomed by hundreds of weary pedestrians who are crowded out of street cars and cannot afford the luxury of motor vehicles.

YOUNG GRANDMOTHER.

HALF-HOLIDAYS.

To the Editor: If Ald. McCandless intends his notice of motion re shop closing as a substitute for the resolution relating to half-holiday for shop clerks which was last week voted down by a majority in council, a number of whom had given their pre-election pledges to sustain such a measure, then, with all due respect to the alderman's good judgment, in this matter surely he cannot be serious in presenting his motion as a solution for the half-holiday desired by the shop employees. Many and varied were the reasons advanced why the shops could not be closed on a week-day. One of those cite was on account of tourists. Now the question arises, what are tourists? Men and women on a vacation. And for this reason other men and women must be prevented from having a half-holiday lest some of these people should desire to buy something in the afternoon which they could and did not buy in the forenoon. I submit, Mr. Editor, the clerks and their families are entitled to some consideration, and such reasoning as this puts them merely at the beck and call of the thoughtless. If proof were required as to the ease with which the public in general adapts itself to the changing order, then we have but to look to Great Britain, where the custom of a half-holiday is now general. Therefore, we may surely have no fear in a country where we claim to be in the "front rank" of progression. But as this is a large question, perhaps the aldermen would prefer that it go to a referendum. May I suggest that immediate steps be taken to call for a plebiscite on this matter at the forthcoming bye-election in July. If no money is available for such a purpose a public subscription could be made to defray the necessary expenses.

GEORGE OLIVER.

THE POTLATCH.

To the Editor: A few days ago a paragraph appeared in the newspapers to the effect that it was proposed to enforce the law against the Indian potlatch.

We often speak of the "spirit of British fair play" that is supposed to characterize our dealings with mankind in general, yet in the proposed suppression of the Indian potlatch there is no evidence of the boasted British fair play.

Of course it has been asserted, but it has not been proved, that the potlatch is most pernicious and objectionable.

The writer of this letter has witnessed several potlatches, and as far as an ordinary observer could discover, the chief features of the potlatch are in the first place, feasting which is conducted on a somewhat "superabundant" scale, which might not be considered quite "the correct thing" by persons who have only a limited capacity for food.

In addition to feasting there is the distribution of presents, which are a "free-will offering" on the part of the person who is giving the potlatch, and who, one would think, should have a perfect right to dispose of his property as he sees fit.

There is also much dancing during a potlatch, the dancers frequently wearing picturesque costumes and grotesque masks, which have been the property of the tribe since ancient times.

With regard to the character of the dances, it may be said with truth that they are less objectionable than the Tango and other dances of the white man.

The Indians are perhaps more like "grown up children" than we are, and consequently they derive more pleasure from dressing up in "quaint regalia" and picturesque costumes than even the members of a Highland regiment or the officers of certain fraternity orders.

With regard to the feasts and dances with which the Indians entertain their friends, they bear a strong resemblance to the banquets and balls so frequent in civilized society.

It would appear unfair to reintroduce among white people the old Puritan laws against dancing and Christmas festivity, so it also appears unfair to suppress the potlatch by legal process.

At the end of a season of industry in the canneries, or on the return of the Indians from their summer work, the potlatch appears to be the Indian festival that pleases and yet does no one any harm, while it affords entertainment to numerous white spectators, many of whom are ladies.

At Alert Bay and other points on the coast of British Columbia it is usual for many white people to witness potlatches and also for them to accept presents from the Indian who gives the potlatch.

If the potlatch is "objectionable," as some persons have asserted, it would be interesting if some one would explain in the public press his reasons for thinking that the institution should be suppressed.

HINDU CONTROVERSY IN ENGLAND.

To the Editor,—The enclosed copy of correspondence and comments explains itself. Perhaps it would interest your readers. The article on "National Unity" is the second of a brief series which commenced in the June number of the United Service Magazine:

A. G. CRAFTER.

20 Barrack Road, Bexhill, Sussex.

Copy of a Letter to the Referee.
(Refused: "Sorry we cannot spare room.")

"By a Canadian."
Bexhill, May 31, 1914.

"Sir,—'Vanoc' was born in England and 'loves his country,' even, I suppose, his countrymen who, that is, are 'English.' Yet, as he has often told us, he has little 'personal' use for mere Britons and Celts. Thus, his love is first for the English, and then for that heterogeneous mixture of races, castes, creeds and civilizations which, surely only euphuistically, he styles 'India.' But then, I believe, he is not wholly antagonistic to that fourth of the British race—of whom about nine million citizens are of United Kingdom origin and one million of United Kingdom birth—which comprises the four dominion states.

"Anyhow, I cite the following from to-day's handbook on the front page of the Referee:

"'Gurdit Singh . . . demands for them (Hindu emigrants) entry into Canada in right of their British citizenship. The exclusion of British subjects from Canada may compel our rulers to decide between a Canadian declaration of independence and the secession of India. For us English, if the dilemma is inevitable, there is no doubt as to our duty. We must stand by India. I venture to think there is no doubt as to the duty of Canada.'

"That is Vanoc's opinion. Here 's mine: In the first place, all the four dominions are against the competition and entry into their markets of colored labor. That, at literally any cost, is irrevocable. But 'Vanoc,' at least privily, might define his own terms. For instance, it is not really true that I and mine are 'subject—inferior, subordinate—to 'Vanoc' and his. Englishmen no less than Canadians are dependent on British, which is not English, national sovereignty. The trade of the Britons who comprise the dominion states of this kingdom is worth more than twice as much of their fellow nationals of the mother state as India's. If Englishmen followed Vanoc's' only emotional ('the glamor of India') and uneconomic advice, then not only Canadians but Australians and New Zealanders would perforce find security in a Pacific alliance with the United States. It follows, with this loss of prestige, Britain would then lose India. Which, as 'Vanoc' should know, is not a stable or on the whole a profitable 'possession' of—No! Not the English, but—the British. That, I may remind 'Vanoc,' is the knowledge of every informed economist.

"Incidentally, there is no such thing as 'citizenship of the empire.' 'The empire' is not a state, but is subject to the sovereign national power. Citizenship belongs to organic statehood. Indians are subjects, not citizens, of the crown—that is to say, of the sovereign national state, which, in turn, is the whole nation of five states.

"Finally, could 'Vanoc' induce labor in this country to 'unite' with Indian coolie labor? Could 'Vanoc' induce the people of this mother country to 'unite,' as against their fellow nationals of the dominions (and few people of this motherland have not friends or relations who are citizens of these other states), with Indians? Would even Englishmen at that cost 'stand by India?' Supposing a shot fired by a hostile European combination did land with effect among Englishmen in Britain, would not the English immediately and, at last consciously, become British? 'Vanoc' would have one believe that 'the flag'—a solely national and solely British flag—is nothing more than a sub-racial monopoly. But I disagree with 'Vanoc' in this: In my opinion, the English are not fools."

Note.—Writing on "National Unity—An Economic Interpretation," in an article submitted to the editor of a contemporary magazine some days before the above was writen or "Vanoc's" pronouncement made, I said:

"We should not be asked, as in effect we are, to choose between no closer reorganization of our own states and a 'unity'—which no one would dare to define in its socio-economic aspect before an audience of white wage-earners—with Indians."

Yet that now is the exact alternative presented by "Vanoc." I have now added a footnote to the above, reading, in part:

"What does 'Vanoc' really advocate? Let me tell him: A 'declaration' of independence on the part of Canadians would inevitably induce a similar course in the two Australasian states. Then would follow an English-speaking alliance of four Pacific states, including two continents of over 100,000,000 white English-speaking citizens, all of whom would still command English capital before the English, as well as undiminished supply of selected English immigrants. 'England' would keep the balance. But British prestige, which 'Vanoc' deems 'English,' would be gone, and with it the whole empire, including 'India.'"

"Tea and Coffee are just as harmful to children as alcohol is to grown-ups," says Dr. Charlotte Abbey, superintendent of the Women's Directory.

The reason why tea and coffee injure anybody is because these beverages contain the poisonous drug, caffeine, (from 1½ to 3 grains to the cup), which physicians have long known affects the heart, stomach and liver.

Children especially, with their delicate nerves, are susceptible to the action of caffeine, and should never be allowed to have tea or coffee or any other beverage containing drugs.

Thousands of adults have found that their headaches, nervousness, indigestion and sleeplessness have vanished when a change was made from tea and coffee to

FISHERY REGULATIONS IN PROVINCE AMENDED

Herring May Be Exported; Saanich Arm and Cowichan Bay Reserved for Sport

Several changes in the federal government's special fisheries regulations for the province of British Columbia, which were adopted on March 12, 1910, have recently been altered and notice of the changes is given in the Canada Gazette in its last issue.

The export from this province of fresh herring, or of herring preserved in salt for a period of less than nine days, or of herring of any kind intended for preserving or converting into fertilizer or oil outside Canada, was prohibited, the object being to prevent herring being exported to be converted into fish scrap and oil. The new order-in-council recites that "whereas recently a demand has arisen in the United States for fresh herring frozen in ice and otherwise prepared for shipment in small packages, and in no instance exceeding two hundred pounds in weight, and whereas, owing to the price paid for fish so exported, it is not feasible to use them otherwise than for food," it is expedient to amend the regulation. This is done and it is now legal to export fresh herring packed in boxes containing not more than two hundred pounds, so that this demand can be supplied from British Columbia.

Saanich Arm and Cowichan Bay are favorite resorts for sport fishing and net fishing is not allowed, but notwithstanding this the fishing in these waters is becoming depleted owing to fishing for commercial purposes by trolling. The commercial fisheries being of little account, and it being desirable to preserve these waters for sport fishing, the order-in-council forbids fishing with nets or with any implements for commercial purposes in Saanich Arm, inside a straight line drawn from Hatch Point to Pames Point, nor in Cowichan Bay, inside a line drawn from Cowichan Head to Serpentine Point.

The close season for sockeye salmon north of the fifty-first parallel has been from October 1 to June 19, while south of that latitude the close season has been extended to June 30. Experience in recent years has shown that sockeye salmon can be caught much farther south than that latitude by June 20, and as there is no good reason why these salmon should not be caught as early in the season as they arrive, as they are then in good condition, the responsible officers of the department on this coast have made a recommendation which has been adopted.

Hereafter the taking of sockeye may begin on June 20 on the west coast north of 48.30 north, and on the east coast of Vancouver Island north of 49.30 north. The prohibition of the use of salmon nets of any sort inside the outside edges of the sandheads, from Point Grey to the 49th parallel, between August 25 and September 15, is continued.

To meet the case of bona fide settlers of alien race who desire to engage in fishing the rule against granting of licenses to any but British subjects or Canadian firms licensed to do business in British Columbia has been amended so that licenses may be granted to a bona fide settler who has pre-empted or purchased land.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

Cy Warman, the poet, song-writer and railroad man who was one of Canada's adopted sons was born at Greenup, Ill., fifty-nine years ago to-day. For many years prior to his recent death "The Poet of the Rockies" was a citizen of London, Ont., where he owned a beautiful home, and was connected with a Canadian railway. Mr. Warman's father was a soldier in the Mexican war, and the poet was born on a homestead which had been given to his sire as a reward of valor. Cy Warman received a common school education, and in his youth and early manhood was a Jack of many trades. He was a farmer and wheat-buyer in his native state for a few years prior to 1880, when he went to Colorado and became a locomotive fireman, and afterwards an engineer, on the Denver & Rio Grande road. After eight years he turned journalist, and edited the Creede, Colo., Chronicle and the Western Railway at Denver. He received the title of "The Poet of the Rockies" from the publication of some of his verse in the New York Sun in 1892. The following year he rode in a locomotive from New York to Chicago and wrote his first railway story, "A Thousand Miles in a Night." After several years of travel in Europe and the Orient he built a fine residence in London, Ont. Mr. Warman's second wife, who was Myrtle Marie Jones, inspired the poet to compose the famous song, "Sweet Marie." Miss Jones was a student in the Academy of the Sacred Heart in London, Ont., when she met Mr. Warman.

FIRST THINGS

This is the first day of that season which is hailed by some as "the good old summer time," although many people, and especially those given to embonpoint, describe it with an adjective quite the reverse of "good." The summer solstice, which marks the beginning of summer, is astronomically speaking the time when old Sol seems to enter the tropic of cancer. This is true, of course, only in the northern hemisphere, as in the southern half of the world the sun's entrance into cancer marks the beginning of winter. From now on, in this part of the world, the days will begin to grow shorter. The longest day in New York lasts about 15 hours. Montreal has a 16-hour day. At Tornea, in Finland, the sun will shine to-day for about 24 hours. Of the great cities of the world, St. Petersburg has the longest day, 19 hours, while Stockholm's day is now about 18¾ hours in duration. At Bardo, Norway, the sun has been shining uninterruptedly for a month, and will continue to be on the job a month longer. At Reikjavik, the capital of Iceland, the day is 20 hours long, and in the northern part of Iceland the sun will continue above the horizon for a week.

PEOPLE IN VICTORIA ARE AMAZED

No medicine has ever caused such amazement in Victoria as the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-i-ka. HUMAN PROCESSION

Proud and erect, for all the weight of years and shame, Julian Hawthorne, distinguished author and scion of one of America's foremost literary families, entered the grim portals of the United States federal prison a little more than a year ago. For six months he was a dweller in that "living hell" where "men are numbers," and on October 15 last he was released. Still proud and erect, but vowing vengeance on the system which he declared was "breaking men" the author emerged into the light of day, determined to devote the remainder of his life to the cause of prison reform. Not since Oscar Wilde found in the solitude of a cell the inspiration to compose "The Ballad of Reading Gaol" has a man of such literary attainments as Hawthorne had the opportunity, from bitter personal experience, to put into words the true inwardness of prison life.

Julian Hawthorne was born in Boston sixty-eight years ago to-day, the son of Nathaniel Hawthorne, immortal author of "The Scarlet Letter" and "The House of Seven Gables." In his young manhood he was employed as a hydrographic engineer in the New York dock department, but for more than forty years he has devoted himself exclusively to journalism and authorship. In 1912 he was accused of complicity in a Canadian mine promotion swindle, and was convicted. He has been steadfast in asserting his innocence, and declares that "my imprisonment was not a disgrace on me and upon my name but upon the people who imprisoned me."

In the Atlanta prison the author was employed in the printing office and as editor of Good Words, the prison paper. In that publication he summed up his opinions of crime, criminals and their punishment in the following paragraph:

"Men are terribly alike—the best and worst of them. Heredity and Circumstances are guilty, how can the punishment of the individual benefit anybody or anything?"

In the prison paper Hawthorne published a number of verses, ranging from grave to gay, although his humor lacked the quality of savage wit displayed by Roland B. Molineux in his famous publication, the Murderers' Home Journal, published in the death cell of Sing Sing prison, where the now famous playwright spent many months face to face with death before his second trial brought acquittal. "Footfalls," inspired by the restless tramping of men above his head during the still watches of the night, is a specimen of Hawthorne's prison muse:

In the cell over mine at night
A step goes to and fro,
From barred door to iron wall,
From wall to door I hear it go,
Four paces heavy and slow,
In the heart of the sleeping jail,
And the goad that drives I know.

I never saw his face nor heard him speak,
He may be Dutchman, Dago, Yankee Greek;
But the language of that prison'd step too well I know;
Unknown brother of the remorseless bars,
Pent in your cage from earth and sky and stars,
The hunger for lost life that goads you so
I also know.

When it is a question of the moral authority of the government to pursue their policy, I do not know on what ground of principle it can be contended that the judgment of 17 constituencies and 991,000 voters should be accepted and judgment of 25 constituencits and 236,000 voters rejected.—Mr. Herbert Samuel, M. P.

SCRAP BOOK

Three-score years ago, when Kansas was a "dark and bloody ground," and armed bands of desperate men roamed over a land now dedicated to peace, plenty and prosperity, there came to the future Sunflower state a man destined to play a large part in its troubled history. He was James Henry Lane, a Hoosier by birth, a statesman and soldier, and well fitted by nature and experience to play the difficult role of chief commander of the Free State forces in the war with the pro-slavery "Border Ruffians."

Kansas and Indiana will join to-day in honoring the memory of Lane on the centenary of his birth. Lawrenceburg, Ind., was his native town, where he was born on June 22, 1814. He became a lawyer, but when the war between the United States and Mexico broke out he enlisted as a private. He was soon promoted to be colonel of an Indiana regiment, and commanded a brigade at the battle of Buena Vista. After the war he was elected lieutenant-governor of his native state, and later was sent to congress.

Lane removed to Kansas when the bitter struggle between the forces for and against slavery was just beginning. In congress he voted for the Kansas-Nebraska bill, and for a time he remained "on the fence." He was a member of the two rival constitutional conventions, at Topeka and at Leavenworth, but he soon cast in his lot with the anti-slavery or Free State party. He was chosen president of the Free State convention held at Topeka in 1855, and the following year was elected United States senator, but, as the pro-slavery forces, backed up by armies of Missourians, were then in the saddle, Lane was not permitted to go to Washington. In the meantime, from all parts of the east and central west, parties of anti-slavery immigrants were pouring into Kansas to assist Lane John Brown, and the other Free State leaders in their conflict with the Missourians. Lane led a party of 600 northern immigrants, known as Lane's "army of the north," and entered the territory through Iowa and Nebraska. For several years Kansas was given over to battle, murder and pillage, but the Free State party eventually triumphed, and in 1861 Lane was elected to the United States senate. His health had failed, however, and he became a physical and mental wreck, and in 1866 he committed suicide at Leavenworth.

Argentine and Uruguay will celebrate to-day the centenary of the memorable land and naval battle of June 22, 1814, in which the Spanish troops were defected and forced to abandon the fort of Montevideo, their last stronghold in La Plata provinces. Encouraged by their success against the invaders, the people of both cities repudiated the authority of Spain in 1810, and under the leadership of such brave patriots as General Jose Artigas, drove the Spaniards from the country. In the battle of a century ago the Spanish troops were so decisively defeated both by land and water that they were forced to flee the country, and the army of liberty, under San Martin, crossed the Andes and helped to free Chile, Bolivia and Peru.

HAD EVERY AILMENT

Man Convicted of Begging Told Fanciful Story in Police Court—Sentenced to One Month.

A fanciful story was told by Alexander J. Faulkner Saturday in the police court when he was accused of begging on the streets. He alleged that he had been ill for some time. Later his trouble had been augmented by hemorrhage, he added, and from the two combined he had become so weak that now and again he had to ask passers-by to get him some brandy. He was a time-keeper in the service of the G. T. P., he averred, and had come down from Smithers to see Mr. Donaldson.

License Inspector Hatcher stated that he had watched Faulkner Friday morning on Government street and had seen him accost several men. He was close enough to hear what was said, and in each case the same tale was repeated. He would open the conversation by asking where Strathcona street was. From that he would pass on to asking for the price of a meal.

Inspector Perdue said he met the man a week ago on the causeway, and at that time the accused said he had just come down from Prince Rupert. On that occasion also he asked for assistance.

Harry Harris was another witness whose aid Faulkner had invoked. He stated the accused had stopped him on Fort street and asked him where Strathcona street was. He directed him to the Strathcona hotel and, when the man asked, gave him fifty cents for the price of a meal. He, however, followed him up and saw the accused enter three saloons in succession and accost half a dozen people in the interim.

W. T. Dunn gave corroborative evidence.

In his own statement the accused said he was in a very weak condition, and that his wife was now on her way out to him from Montreal. He gave a long and interesting description of his ailments and of his fainting spells. He appeared to have every ailment extant except "housemaid's knee."

Magistrate Jay cut short the recital by sentencing the prisoner to one month's imprisonment.

Relief at Once Cure Certain

Conclusive Evidence That Dr. Chase's Ointment Cures Itching Piles.

Mr. John G. McDonald, Pictou, N. S., writes: "I used Dr. Chase's Ointment for itching piles, and found that the first application gave relief. After using a few boxes of the ointment I was completely cured, and can recommend it highly to all sufferers from this disease. You have my permission to use this letter for the benefit of others."

Mr. James M. Douglass, Superior Junction, Ont., writes: "For about six years I suffered from piles, and often could not work for two or three days at a time, so great was the suffering from pain and itching. Doctors treated me in vain, and I tried many treatments before I came across Dr. Chase's Ointment. Two boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment cured me, and for several months I have had no return of this annoying ailment."

There can be no doubt that Dr. Chase's Ointment is the most effective treatment obtainable for every form of piles. 60 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Doubtless there are weak points, and many of our ministers have to face hard and harassing problems, whose solution cannot be hoped for without long and earnest effort. But the heart of the old church is sound.—Rev. Dr. Wallace Williamson.

All the data in my possession conclusively show that the income of this country has more than doubled since 1880, and all the data I have been able to obtain show me that we were never better equipped to expand our income in future. —Sir George Paish.

An Interrupted Wooing

ADVERTISING is like a lover courting a maid; it seeks to establish between two parties a bond of complete and permanent relationship.

Just as a lover would imperil his suit were he to suspend his wooing for three months, so does the manufacturer lose—perhaps forever—much of what he has gained at great cost when he interrupts his wooing of the favor of the public.

The manufacturer who suspends his advertising for the hot weather months is extravagant in the extreme.

A suspension of summer advertising is much the same as giving a sales staff a three months' vacation, and leaving their customers to write in for what they may need, or to give their orders to competitors who have not relaxed their selling efforts.

Advertising is a sales agent whose work is real, positive, and perceivable though its influence and results in any given month may not be immediately calculable. Its worth is seen when sales are summarized and compared.

You can obtain helpful advice on advertising free of cost and without obligation by consulting the Business Department of the Times.

TO CITY SUBSCRIBERS

In order to render the best possible service, we request city subscribers to immediately phone or write The Times Circulation Department in all cases of non-delivery or bad delivery of paper on the part of any carrier.

Do not pay any collector without obtaining printed receipt, which please keep. This may save trouble in future.

If, for any reason, you wish us to stop delivering the paper, you will help considerably by notifying the office instead of the carrier, who is liable to forget.

Especially to those subscribers whose residences are some distance from the sidewalk we recommend the use of a metal newspaper holder, to be obtained from our Circulation Department for the small sum of 35c. Easily affixed and a boon during the winter months.

"Waal," replied the old man, "p'taters is growin' so fast now that by the time I get a basketful dug, the last ones is about twice the size of the first."

HERE FROM WINNIPEG

Mayor Deacon Calls on Mayor Stewart; is Visiting Friends for Brief Period.

Mayor Thomas R. Deacon, of Winnipeg, one of the best known civic figures in western Canada, arrived in the city this morning on a visit to friends, and called on Mayor Stewart at the city hall. During a brief chat in an interval of a busy morning, Mayor Stewart talked over municipal matters with his visitor, who showed marked interest in the problems of Victoria.

Mr. Deacon, who is serving his second terms as mayor of the largest city on the prairies, is one of the increasing number of civil engineers who have entered public life. He is best known in Winnipeg as president of the Manitoba Bridge & Iron Works, which he founded. Although he was new to Winnipeg civic life in 1912 when he ran for the mayoralty and was elected, he had been a member of the council in Kenora and acting mayor there in 1901. For some time he was city engineer for Kenora. In 1902 he moved to Winnipeg and was a member of the council of the board of trade there for some years.

In addition to his experience as a civil engineer, the mayor of Winnipeg has taken an active part in mining engineering in various capacities. He is a member of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers.

Mayor Deacon will make only a brief stay in Victoria and expects to leave possibly to-morrow.

A splendid view of the Highlanders was obtained yesterday at they paraded in full dress, and the Capital Film and B. C. Weekly company did not miss this opportunity.

Mechanics are now at work constructing a room in the Variety theatre for the printing and developing of the films taken by the company's operator.

JAPANESE CRUISERS ARRIVE ON WEDNESDAY

Receptions to Be on Wednesday Evening; Sail for Tacoma Thursday

On Wednesday morning the two Japanese cruisers, Asama and Azuma, will arrive from Vancouver off the outer wharf in the course of their tour of the Pacific ports, which has embraced calls at points from San Francisco to British Columbia and Puget Sound. They will come to anchor soon after midnight.

The reception by the government at the legislative buildings and the city's entertainment of the visiting crews at the drill hall will therefore take place on Wednesday evening, instead of to-morrow evening, as originally announced. The vessels will weigh anchor on Thursday morning and proceed from here to Tacoma.

The city's entertainment will have the assistance of local army and navy men, who can offer a capital programme. Commander Hose has kindly promised Mayor Stewart his assistance in making the arrangements. The dinner which the naval authorities here desired to give the visitors will not be held.

The usual etiquette will of course be followed in the exchange of visits here. The imperial training squadron left the base at Yokusuke naval yard on April 20, and has been cruising leisurely since that time. The cruisers dropped anchor at Honolulu, where some visits were exchanged, and then proceeded to San Francisco. The Golden Gate was left behind a week ago yesterday, and on Saturday the two vessels took up their berth in Burrard Inlet. British Columbia is the first province to be visited. After the Victoria visit Rear-Admiral Kuroi will move the ships on to Tacoma.

While it is some time since Japanese cruisers appeared in these waters, the visitors' uniforms will remind Victorians of the close copy which the organizers of the Japanese navy made of British models in establishing their remarkable fleet. As both the cruisers were under fire in the Russo-Japanese war, the visitors have a special interest for this community, which probably more than any other city in Canada is interested in naval matters. The reception accorded to H. M. S. New Zealand last year, and to the U. S. S. California and U. S. S. West Virginia, indicated that Victorians welcome the opportunity of greeting warships which find their way to this port.

On account of the recent death of the Dowager Empress of Japan, the rear-admiral has expressed through Consul Hori a desire that official receptions be curtailed as much as possible. Therefore the reception to the officers in the chamber at the parliament buildings and the entertainment of the men simultaneously by the city at the drill hall will be the only formal functions here. No invitations are being issued for the reception, but those in evening dress will be admitted to the floor at 8.30 p.m. The legislative buildings will be illuminated for the occasion. Workmen have been busy for the last few days with the scheme of decorations in the chamber itself. The band of the 88th Fusiliers will render selections, while the band of the Fifth Regiment will play on the lawn.

The members of the Japanese colony here are preparing a welcome in keeping with the hearty one given by their Vancouver compatriots on Saturday. It is the intention to take the crews, as they are given shore leave, for a drive round the city.

The staff officers with Rear-Admiral Teijiro Kurol are Commander Shizen, Komaki, Lieut. Yutaka Arima and Flag Lieut. Hidetsuga Suzuki.

The Asama is in charge of Captain Tokutaro Hiraga and Commander Jiro Nango. There are about 500 men on board. Her armament consists of four 8-inch guns, fourteen 6-inch guns, twelve 12-pounders and seven 2½ pounders. She is equipped with four 18-inch torpedo tubes, one above the waterline and three submerged. Harvey nickel armor forms the protection for the Asama. She has a 7-inch belt amidships, 3¼ inches fore and aft and 2 inches thick on the deck slopes. Her turrets, conning tower and other vital parts of the ship are heavily armored, the total weight of the steel for protection purposes being 2,100 tons. She has two sets of four-cylinder triple-expansion engines.

The Azuma's captain is Kozo Sato, with Hiroshi Furukawa as commander. She is equipped with four 8-inch guns, twelve 6-inch guns, twelve 12-pounders and twelve 3-pounders. The warship carries four submerged torpedo tubes and one above the waterline at the bow. Armored with Krupp steel, the total weight of which 2,000 tons, the Azuma has a belt of 7 inches amidships, 3½ inches fore and aft, and 2½ inches on the deck slopes. The main belt is seven feet wide by 210 feet long with 6-inch bulkheads. Her machinery is composed of two sets of vertical triple-expansion engines. Her designed horse-power is 17,000, and she is capable of steaming 20 knots.

CONSULTING ENGINEER INSPECTS WATERWORKS

Mr. Meredith Arrived To-day; Art Gallery Proposed; Its Suggested Site

Consulting Engineer Wynn Meredith arrived from the south to-day and immediately proceeded to Cooper's Cove with Resident Engineer Boyd Ehle to inspect the work being done by the Pacific Lock Joint Company on the flow line of Sooke waterworks. To-morrow Mr. Meredith expects to visit Sooke lake in company with Mr. Ehle. Considerable progress has been made since he was here last, the manufacture of pressure pipe being in hand at Thetis cove.

Following a suggestion by some of the ladies who are interested in art, and who are formulating a scheme to build a fireproof structure to house a collection which it is stated may be obtained for the city, the question of a site for the proposed gallery has arisen. It is understood that the ladies have in hand a proposal to ask the city for a small portion of the reclaimed land at the rear of the Empress hotel. Many schemes have in the past been formulated for the use of the land.

The mayor said this morning, when asked whether the city would give a site, that he believed the city had equally good sites to offer which would not interfere with the future development of that valuable area. He added that if the ladies would come to the city with a concrete business proposal he would be fully prepared to recommend its consideration to the council, holding that such an institution would be a great benefit to the community. He cordially supported the idea.

The scheme as drafted proposes to raise the money by subscription and to erect a one-storey reinforced concrete structure, the building to be turned over to the custody of the city when completed. There has been a great development in art here of recent years and the ladies are enthusiastic about their proposal.

At the meeting of the finance committee of the city council this afternoon, the question of the repairs to Point Ellice bridge came up. Mr. Rust had made an investigation with the B. C. Electric Railway engineer and another technical man, and reported that work of an urgent character, costing about $4,000 needed to be done. This money must be provided out of the contingent fund.

FORGERY IS CHARGED TO PRINCESS ALICE CLERK

Vancouver, June 22.—Joseph T. Leslie, freight clerk on the C. P. R. steamer Princess Alice, was arrested yesterday by Special Officer Denforth, of the C. P. R. criminal investigation bureau, and appeared this morning before Magistrate Shaw on a charge of forging pay cheques. It is alleged that he secured between $500 and $600 in the past two or three months. An adjournment was asked for by the defence, and the case was set down for trial on Friday. Bail was fixed at $8,000.

It is alleged that in his capacity of clerk on the Princess Alice, that Leslie handled the pay cheques which he falsified, and forged the signatures to the warrants for them, as well as the endorsements to the cheques.

CANADIAN GOLFERS DO WELL AT SEATTLE

Roger Lapham, of Los Angeles, playing on his Seattle Golf club membership, defeated B. Wilson, of Victoria, 4 and 2.

The winners on the Canadian team were W. Ricardo, Victoria, who defeated A. S. Kerry, of Seattle, 5 and 4, and W. Bone, of Vancouver, who defeated T. S. Lippy, 6 and 4.

Halved matches came in those of H. A. Fleager, of Seattle, against H. T. Gardner, of Vancouver; O. W. Potter, of Seattle, against A. L. Payne, of Vancouver; George Tilden, of Seattle, against A. A. Jamieson, of Vancouver, and E. H. Hughes, of Spokane, against J. S. Matterson, of Victoria.

NEW CONSUL VISITS GOVERNMENT HEADS

Baron Groedel, of Budapest to Represent His Country in This Province

Baron Groedel, the newly-arrived consul for Austria-Hungary in British Columbia, came over from Vancouver yesterday to pay his first official calls at the offices of the heads of the provincial government. He will probably visit both the lieutenant-governor and the premier.

Baron Groedel is a young man and sought the appointment to British Columbia because of his interest in this province, which he visited some three or four years ago. That was in the winter time and this morning after a day spent in viewing the city and surroundings he stated that he had previously formed a most imperfect impression of the beauties of this portion of the island.

Baron Groedel is a Hungarian and is registered at the Empress hotel from Budapest, the gay capital of that portion of the Austrian empire. The new consul's father is a ship-owner whose vessels are registered under the British flag. The ships are engaged in exporting Austrian manufacturers chiefly from the port of Fiume, on the Adriatic. When the Panama canal channel of trade becomes opened up it is his intention to send his ships to British Columbia with Austrian manufactured articles.

The new consul is thoroughly familiar with the English tongue and stated that in Hungary now the rich people and the nobility all teach their young men English instead of French. Sons of prominent Hungarian families are sent to Oxford and Cambridge in large numbers and the educated young people of Hungary are well versed in English. This has only been the case for eight or ten years, however, as prior to that French, as the language or diplomacy, was always taught. Now, however, English being the language of trade, had taken the ascendancy.

Austria-Hungary looks forward to much trade with the Pacific coast within the new few years, the Panama canal being an incentive to develop it, the Baron stated.

Austria is a great industrial country and expects to ship much merchandise here. What will be taken back is the difficulty. Hungary, states the new consul, is a highly developed agricultural country and two years ago its grain crop was of just the same extent as Canada's. Since then Canada's has increased slightly. At the same time Hungary raises enough grain to feed the Austrian-Hungarian empire and does not need Canadian wheat. That this difficulty will adjust itself is the Baron's firm belief.

HOTEL GUESTS IN COURT

Two Cases Before Police Magistrate in Which Cheques Given Were Not Honored.

Two cases were heard in police court to-day, in which guests of hotels had got into trouble with the proprietors as a result of cheques being returned from Vancouver with the information that there were no funds to meet them.

Allan Cameron was accused of obtaining the sum of $18 from the Ritz hotel through the cashing of a cheque on the Bank of Vancouver, and during the course of the trial he put in an admission that he had no account in the bank in Vancouver to meet this.

W. A. McLean, day clerk in the Ritz, told of Cameron coming to the hotel on May 9. Two days later he had had the cheque cashed, telling the manager and the witness that he had $1,000 in the bank. Of the sum, he handed back $7 to be kept for him, which sum was credited to him as against the bogus cheque. After the cheque was returned he had given a draft to cover it and his hotel bill, but this had not been paid, witness said.

S. J. Pitts appeared for the accused for J. Percival Walls, and secured an adjournment until Thursday. From his cross-examination it appeared that the firm Cameron was working for would not be accountable for his bills, and his condition while at the hotel would supply a reason for that.

Railto C. Edwards appeared on a charge of defrauding the Kainserhof hotel out of $81.45, the balance of a bill for board, lodging and the other incidentals of hotel life, between May 5 and June 10. To this he pleaded not guilty.

F. W. Kostenbader proved the amount owing, and produced seven cheques which had been handed to him from time to time in part payment of this, and which had been dishonored by the bank. These had all been put through twice, he said, and a couple of them a third time, the last refusal of the bank to honor them being on Friday morning. Mr. Kostenbader had got in touch with the defendant at the Quamichan Inn, and on Friday evening Edwards had come down by motor, he added.

Edwards stated from the dock that there were funds in the branch here to meet the cheques this morning, and Mr. Kostenbader, in answer to questions, said that up to the end of April cheques he had received were honored.

Edwards came before the magistrate again this afternoon, and as in the meantime it had been found that there was money in the bank to cover the cheques held by Mr. Kostenbader the case was withdrawn.

Cut the Corner.—For turning a corner on the wrong side, and on the wrong side of the officer on point duty, Cecil H. Barrington was to-day fined ten dollars. He was represented by Farnk Higgins. Constable Littlefield, who is on point at the intersection of Douglas and Yates streets, told the court that on Wednesday morning last the defendant was coming from the north on Douglas and turning west on Yates street. Instead of making the turn round the intersection by the Merchants Bank corner he cut the northwest corner and passed out between the point and an Esquimalt car which was turning, the officer said. The defendant claimed that he was on the left-hand side of the road in any case, and that the constable had given him the signal to pass in front instead of behind him. The court reminded him that point officers were placed to regulate traffic, and to protect the public, those who used the roadway as well as pedestrians. The defendant should have gone around as all other motorists and drivers did, the magistrate stated.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC FEATURE OF ROSTER

Bull Movement in This Rail Started Covering in Other Prices

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)

New York, June 22.—The market acted in desultory fashion the first half of the session, when a three point rise in Southern Pacific imparted some enthusiasm to the list. A title to 200,000 acres of land estimated to be worth a half billion dollars and upheld by the supreme court started the bull movement in Southern Pacific and induced some short covering throughout prices.

Prices offered stout resistance to a disposed selling pressure, despite the various discouraging features confronting the financial situation.

Foreigners continued to be identified with buyers in the list although less emphatically than heretofore.

NEW LOW RECORD FOR WHEAT IS ESTABLISHED

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)

Chicago, June 22.—The result of the day's trading operations in wheat values was to establish a new low record in prices for this season. The commencement of hedging sales, with prospects of a heavy movement of new wheat very soon, are factors having a depressing effect on prices.

Bullish influence of export sales and lake charters of old wheat is soon lost. Cables were weak and lower.

DEMAND ATTACHED TO ATHABASCA OIL TO-DAY

Prudential Offerings Scarce but Trading in Oil Stocks Was Dull

Features of the local oil list this morning were a renewal of demand in Athabasca, concerted interest in Black Diamond No. 1, resulting in a minor sale. So far as the trading ability was concerned, there was somewhat of a dull, no new feature having obtruded itself over Sunday and rumors of the McDougall-Segur strike not confirmed.

There was no let-up in Prudential enquiry and scarcity of offerings at this time was demonstrated under the two dollar mark.

The explanation given for the suspension of the International Coal & Coke dividend for the current quarter is general business depression.

RAINS SEND PRICES OF WHEAT DOWNWARD

Winnipeg, June 22.—A decided break in wheat prices occurred at the opening, July being 1c. and October ⅝c. lower, while December opened later at 1⅛c. down. Rains have fallen at almost all points in the Canadian west and have relieved any apprehension of damage on that score. With Liverpool cables being decidedly weak, there was no alternative but lower prices.

The brilliant prospects on the winter wheat and spring wheat areas of the United States and the rains during the previous 24 hours in the Canadian west are the dominating influences. During the first two hours of business July dropped 1¼c., October 1⅛c., and December 1⅛c. under Saturday's closel, and at noon prices had rallied ⅛c. on July and October, while December was unchanged. Later, on the close, the market was excited and nervous and further fractional declines were brought about by heavy selling, closing prices being 1½ to 1⅝c. lower. The cash demand on the break was good for Nos. 1 and 2 and 3 northern wheat. Oats were in fair demand. Barley was in poor request. Offerings were scarcer than usual, and exporters were buying freely. Cash wheat closed 1⅝ to 1½ cents lower for contract grades. Oats unchanged to ⅛c. lower. Barley ⅛c. to ½c. lower, and flax 1⅛c. lower for all grades. Inspections Saturday totalled 251 cars as against 390 last year, and in sight were 295.

NEW SEWER CONTRACT SOON TO BE AWARDED

Esquimalt Village Plans Are Ready; Town Hall By-law Abandoned This Year

Plans for the sewering of Esquimalt village west of Signal Hill will be submitted to the works committee of the Esquimalt council at its meeting to-night. The plans will be inspected by the committee and tenders will be advertised for to-morrow if they are approved, as there is no doubt they will be. Excellent progress is being made on the other two contracts and the McDonald contract on that portion of the village west of Signal Hill and south of Esquimalt road is almost completed. The new contract will call for work on Queen, Hospital, Finlayson, Wharf and Criddle streets. This district is nearly all rock.

Indications are that there will be no by-law submitted for the erection of a municipal hall this year. Legal advice from J. C. McIntosh is that the council may not spend more than $6,000 for fire protection and as the pressing need of a fire hall was the real reason for going ahead with the town hall the latter project will now be, it is thought, abandoned.

The council is not disposed to spend $5,000 or $6,000 for inferior fire apparatus and consequently the whole intention of the council has been altered. At present a committee is awaiting an answer from the mayor of Victoria appointing a date for a conference between the Esquimalt committee and the Victoria fire wardens. A proposition to pay so much a year for protection from the city fire department will be made by Esquimalt.

Fire Chief Davis is opposed to granting Esquimalt assistance under present conditions. The Victoria department is maintained for Victoria's protection, he states, and if the apparatus from Victoria West station were to go away down to the Esquimalt village, fully a 10-minute run, the whole of Victoria West would be left without protection. Esquimalt is too badly situated for the city to lend assistance such as is given to Saanich, the chief holds.

Esquimalt council, however, believes that some arrangement can be made. If the city will not help, representations may be made to the government asking leave to spend more than the $6,000 to which district municipalities are by statute limited.

The council is practically agreed, however, that nothing will be done about the municipal hall this year. With no need for a fire hall the councilors feel that they can get along with the present temporary office quarters for another year at any rate.

A wise step has been taken by the council during the past week in having a fireproof cement vault installed in the engine's room of the temporary hall where all plans, records, and other important documents will be kept. The vault will be 10 by 6 feet and will have cement walls 10 inches thick. A regulation vault door with safety combination has been procured in addition. This will be ready in another week and the municipality will be safe from the irreparable loss which it would sustain if its valuable records were destroyed, as would undoubtedly happen if fire broke out now.

CAN'T FIND CONAN DOYLE

Canadian Club May Entertain Governor-General and Prime Minister This Summer.

Frank Sehl, secretary of the Canadian club, has received no word from Sir Arthur Conan Doyle in response to the invitation mailed to him at Banff to come to Victoria and address the Canadian club. Evidently the communication has not reached the distinguished novelist, but every effort is being made by Mr. Sehl to find his address and press the invitation.

No speakers have yet been arranged for at any future gathering of the club, but the executive will probably extend invitations to both H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught and the Rt. Hon. Sir R. L. Borden on the occasions of their respective visits to this city during the coming summer.

The next scheduled event in Canadian Club activities is the annual gathering of the Association of Canadian Clubs at Vancouver on July 14 and 15. Many members of the local club will attend the association sessions and at their conclusion it is expected will bring over a number of the eastern representatives and entertain them in Victoria for a few days.

LIVED HERE 31 YEARS

Mrs. Sarah Cook Sellick, Whose Death Occurred Yesterday, Came to Victoria in 1883.

In the death yesterday morning at an early hour of Mrs. Sarah Cook Sellick, Victoria loses a resident of many years' standing. The late Mrs. Sellick was a native of Spaxton, Somersetshire, and came out to Canada in 1870, two years later moving out to Winnipeg, where she was among the first white women. In the late autumn of 1882 the whole family set out for Victoria, traveling down to San Francisco, and arriving on Vancouver island on New Year's day, 1883.

Since that time almost the entire family has made its home in this city. For many years the late Mrs. Sellick was a member of Calvary Baptist church, but on the breaking up of the congregation about three years ago she became a member of Emmanuel Baptist church, and was much esteemed by members of the congregation and pastor alike for her high moral character and inherent kindliness of heart.

She is survived by her husband, H. R. Sellick; four daughters, Mrs. R. H. Taylor, Mrs. Fred Dykes, Mrs. E. H. Spall and Mrs. H. E. Mills, all of Victoria; and three sons, J. R. Sellick, of Portland, Ore., who has just arrived in the city, David Henry Sellick and Alfred Sellick, of Victoria. Three sisters and twelve grandchildren also survive her.

The funeral will take place from the late residence, 2908 Douglas street, at 2.30 on Thursday afternoon, Rev. William Stevenson officiating. The deceased was 68 years of age.

PLAYGROUND TESTS TAKEN BY CHILDREN

Display Results of Training at North Ward Park; Those Who Passed

The playgrounds tests held at North Ward park on Saturday afternoon were a pronounced success, large numbers of parents and friends of the children attending to see the progress the youngsters had made under the instruction of the playgrounds directors. The afternoon was clear but the wind was so strong that it interfered with some of the events, such as the balancing tests. Despite this, however, the event was thoroughly enjoyable and a marked success from every standpoint. Walter Smaill and Miss Lewis, playground directors, were in charge, while F. R. Booth acted as timekeeper.

As the object of the tests is to indicate the proficiency of the candidates, the results given below show the marks obtained, the names not being given in order of merit and not having first or second places attached. The tests are for medals awarded for proficiency by the Playgrounds association, of which the Victoria branch is a member, and which has branches in many cities on this continent.

LITTLE LAD DROWNED

Ivol E. Ollis Gets Beyond His Depth While Playing With Companions on Beach at Cooper's Cove.

While playing with some small companions on the beach at Cooper's Cove yesterday forenoon Ivol Elwood Ollis, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Ollis, got beyond his depth and before help could be secured he was beyond aid.

There were several small children playing on the beach, but none of them could swim and they ran for help as soon as they saw the little lad being carried out by the tide. When some men who were called got out to the body and brought it ashore artificial respiration was tried but the lad was dead.

The body was brought in yesterday afternoon and lies at the B. C. Funeral chapel, from where the funeral will take place to-morrow.

Constable Owens, of the provincial police, went out and made an investigation of the circumstances of the case, and was satisfied that it was an accident for which no blame attached to anyone. The beach is the usual playground of the children and is quite safe so long as they are careful not to get beyond their depth. On the case being reported to Coroner Hart, he decided that there was no need for an inquest.

It seems to me foolish for the workers, either men or women, to waste their time trying to get votes instead of organizing to get more wages, or, better still, preparing to abolish the wage system entirely.—Mr. Rowland Kennedy.

RETURN FROM NORTH

Victoria Will Have Meeting of Grand Lodge of Free Masons Next June; Successful Meeting.

Victoria will be the scene of the annual meeting of the A. F. and A. M. grand lodge in 1915. It was so decided by the Grand Lodge sitting in Prince Rupert last week.

The delegates who returned to-day from the north report an excellent cruise on the Princess Alice and a hearty welcome from the people at the northern terminal. They state that the steamer was delayed an hour on her departure through the hearty parting songs sung at the wharf.

As the boat had been specially chartered it was possible to carry out a considerable amount of preliminary work on board, and the committees were struck before the arrival at Prince Rupert. Some fifty Free Masons from this city were in the party. Among the list of new officers are a few Victoria men, but the three highest officers all fall to Vancouver this year. District Deputy S. M. Manuel's selection for this district, which involves a large amount of visitation work, is particularly welcome to the brethren of the craft.

A ROSE FESTIVAL.

Excellent Programme Prepared For Event Under Auspices of Camosun Chapter I. O. D. E.

"Mount Adelaide," which has been the scene of many gay gatherings in times gone by, will be en fete on Wednesday and Thursday of this week, when the Camosun Chapter I. O. D. E., is holding its rose festival for the purpose of raising funds for charitable purposes. The 88th Fusiliers band will supply the music on Wednesday afternoon, and on Thursday the 5th Regiment band will be present. In the evening the Cadet and Drum and Fife bands will play. The programme will comprise Irish jigs, in costume; a minuet, in Early Victorian dress; folk-dances; and a rose and butterfly dance. The Misses Dunsmuir are supplying one very interesting feature of the performance in a vaudeville turn which will be one of the most attractive items.

Miss Mary Shearer, the champion Scotch dancer of British Columbia, will give an exhibition of her graceful dances, which are always appreciated by Victoria audiences. Miss Edith Emmett, a well known favorite of Victoria and Seattle, will entertain in fancy step dances and character singing. John Park, champion piper of British Columbia and Pacific coast, will cheer the audience with the leading Scotch airs.

PROTECT GOOD NAME OF DAIRY PRODUCTS

Dairy Industry Act, Passed Recently, Goes Into Effect All Over Canada Sept. 1

In order better to protect the reputation of Canadian dairy products from injury in the markets of the world as well as the home markets, an act known as the Dairy Industry Act was passed at the recent session of parliament, and is to come into force on September 1 next. This act applies to the whole of Canada.

Regulations have been drawn up under this, approved by the governor-general-in-council and published for public information. These provide for the compulsory branding of all dairy products and prohibit, under heavy penalties, the branding of butter or cheese in such a way as to give false information as to its quality or country of origin. The definitions are very inclusive and leave no loophole.

All brands placed on cheese or on packages containing cheese or butter must be legible and indelible, in letters of a prescribed size, and tubs or boxes must also be branded on the side.

Manufacturers of whey butter, or those who mix whey butter with dairy or creamery butter, or who manufacture butter from a mixture of ordinary cream as separated from milk and cream which has been separated from whey, must brand the package at the time of packing as whey butter. Makers who mix dairy butter with creamery butter must brand it as dairy butter, and if they pack dairy butter in boxes similar to those used for the packing of creamery butter they must brand the boxes similar to those used for the packing of creamery butter they must brand the boxes "dairy butter." No one must cut or pack dairy butter into blocks, squares or prints and wrap these in parchment paper unless the paper in printed or branded with the words "dairy butter."

Every cheesemaker who manufactures cheese from or by the use of milk, commonly known as skimmilk, or milk from which any cream has been removed, or milk to which skimmilk has been added, must brand on the side of every cheese, within 24 hours after it is removed from the press, or before it leaves the factory, the words "skimmilk cheese," and upon the outside of every box or package which contains cheese, the words "skimmilk cheese," and upon the outside of every box or package which contains cheese, the words "skimmilk cheese" must be branded at the time the cheese is boxed or packed.

It is made an offence for any dealer knowingly to sell, offer for sale, or have in his possession for sale, any of the butter products mentioned above unless they are branded, wrapped and packed as described, or any of the following:

Any cheese manufactured from or by the use of milk commonly known as skimmed milk, or milk from which cream has been removed, or milk to which skimmed milk has been added unless the words "skimmilk cheese" are branded upon the side of every cheese, and also upon the outside of every box or package which contains cheese.

Any butter branded as creamery butter or any combination of words which includes the word creamery unless such butter is creamery butter according to the definition in the act, and in these regulations.

Any cheese upon which the word "Canadian," "Canadien" or "Canada" is branded, or any cheese or butter contained in any package upon which the word "Canadian," "Canadien" or "Canada" is branded as a descriptive term, unless such cheese or butter has been produced in Caada.

TO MARK CENTENARY

Preparations for Celebration of One Hundred Years' Peace Between Anglo-Saxons.

The movement for celebrating the hundred years of peace between the British Empire and the United States is, judging by a circular issued by the Canadian Peace Centenary association, taking rapid hold in Canada, Great Britain and the United States. The general proposals contain four main features, (1) Monuments and other memorials, (2) Thanksgiving services in the churches, (3) Educational propaganda, (4) Festivities.

February 14, 1915 has been selected for Thanksgiving services in all the churches of the British Empire and the United States. This date is the nearest Sunday to February 17 1915, the centenary of the ratification of the Treaty of Ghent.

The educational propaganda includes several important features, among which may be mentioned the preparation of a series of pamphlets dealing with the various treaties which have made the long peace possible, which it is intended to send to all the schools in Canada. Tableaux and masques are in course of preparation which will also be sent to the schools for production. It is intended to arrange for the writing of competitive essays on Anglo-American relations, and provision is being made for provincial and Dominion prizes.

About 100 centres have been chosen for special celebrations in Canada, and strong local committees have already been arranged for in some of these centres.

The members of the general committee for British Columbia include the lieutenant-governor, the members of the executive council, and the superintendent and the assistant superintendent of education.

The Victoria committee is composed of his worship the mayor, Hon. Wm. Templeman, Hon. E. G. Prior, president of the board of trade; W. W. Foster, M. P. P.; ex-Mayor Morley; M. B. Jackson, president of the Canadian club; the Bishop of Columbia, Bishop Macdonald, the Very Rev. Dean Doull, the Ven. Archdeacon Scriven, Rev. J. G. Inkster, Rev. Dr. Scott, Rev. Dr. Leslie Clay, Rev. Wm. Stevenson, Rev. J. B Warnicker, Capt. D. McIntosh, W. Blakemore, Rev. Robt. Connell, Inspector E. B. Paul, R. W. Perry, former president of the Canadian club; Dr Walter Bapty, Ernest Campbell, J. M. Campbell, R. E. Gosnell, Miss S. R. Crease, T. W. Hall, Mrs. C. Hay, Mrs. E. Hasell, Innes Hopkins, W H. WILL PROPOSE MEASURE.

Ald. McCandless Will This Evening Introduce New By-law Regarding Closing of Stores.

The by-law which is being introduced by Alderman McCandless, chairman of the health committee, to the attention of the city council this evening is designed to regulate the hours of closing in stores. The proposals of the measure defeated by the council last Monday were intended to bring into operation the second subclause of section four of the Shops Regulation act, which gives a municipality power to make rules, provided that no store shall be required to close before noon on the early closing day, while the by-law which is to come before the aldermen this evening is under sub-clause three, which provides that stores may not be closed by by-law earlier than 6 p. m. daily, except where the date precedes Sunday or a public holiday. Tobacconists, under the provincial act, cannot be dealt with and the civic measure which will be introduced this evening proposes the exemption of fruit, dairy and drug businesses. In other words, it proposes to give uniformity to a system which is already general in the community. Very little change will be involved by the proposed by-law, it is stated.

Owing to the Christmas trade, the two weeks before the festive season will be specially exempted from the operation of the new by-law. It is pointed out that Alderman Sargent's proposal to close at 5.30 p. m. cannot be enacted, as the provincial statute gives no power to enforce compulsory closing prior to 6 p. m.

A well-known American journalist was visiting the national capital, and while talking to some members of congress was leaning against the wall of a committee room. A picture hanging on the wall fell and, striking him full upon the head, knocked him down and for the moment stunned him. As he opened his eyes one of the group asked, "Can we do anything for you, old man?" "Yes," he feebly answered. "What is it?" "Repeal the law of gravitation."
